3:00 P.M.15 H

This being the first day of the Second Session of the Thirty-sixth Parliament convoked by Proclamation of the Lieutenant Governor for the despatch of business, and the members of the House having assembled:-

Her Honour the Lieutenant Governor entered the Legislative Chamber and, having taken her seat on the Throne, was pleased to open the Session by reading the following gracious speech:

Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislative Assembly, Fellow Ontarians:

I am pleased to welcome you to the opening of the Second Session of the 36th Legislature — and deliver my first Speech from the Throne since becoming Her Majesty's representative 15 months ago.

Since last we met, Ontario has mourned the passing of five former members of the Legislative Assembly:

- Edward Jolliffe, who sat in this House for five years, led the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation, and twice served as Leader of the Official Opposition.
- Nick Leluk, founding executive director of the Council on Drug Abuse, representative of Etobicoke for 16 years and Cabinet Minister in two administrations.
- Jim McGuigan of Kent County, a life-long farmer who served his constituents with dignity and honour for 13 years.
- Joseph Salsberg, a champion of human rights and equality who for 12 years represented the people of St. Andrew as one of only two communist MPPs in Ontario history. He later renounced communism, but remained passionately committed to working people and to his community until his death in February at age 95.
- Eddie Sargent, 15-year mayor of Owen Sound who went on to win seven provincial elections and serve for 24 years as one of the Assembly's most colourful and feisty members.

Their beliefs spanned the political spectrum, but these five shared a mutual commitment to doing what each believed to be right. They stand as examples to us all.

A Strong People

Ontario's greatness derives both from the strength of its people and the richness of its natural heritage. In recent months these two have clashed as the power of nature has twice tested our collective courage and resolve.

January's historic ice storm disrupted lives and devastated communities in Eastern Ontario. We were still re-building when spring floods inflicted further damage and distress on this region, and elsewhere in the Province.

In each case, the fury unleashed by nature was surpassed by the selflessness, generosity and resourcefulness of Ontario's people.

People such as Edwin Grant of Cardinal, who lent portable generators and his time to pump out neighbours' basements and run furnaces — then drove 200 miles to Oshawa to pick up more generators.

And Anne Tackaberry of Addison, who walked door-to-door through her community, ensuring that the sick and elderly were warm and fed, and opening her home to those needing shelter.

And Rob Anderson and Calvin Johnson of McDonalds Corners, who stayed up all night, March 30, using Mr. Anderson's equipment to pump out the basement of a neighbour's home on Dalhousie Lake, and also putting out a fire.

We pay tribute to these local heroes, to the many police officers, soldiers, emergency workers and volunteers, and to the thousands of individuals who opened their hearts during the recent states of emergency.

Indeed, this week, National Volunteer Week, we recognize all who give of themselves to assist the needy, guide the young, protect the vulnerable, comfort the infirm, and improve their communities.

We celebrate the impressive achievement of other Ontario heroes: the 50 athletes and the coaches, team leaders, medical staff and volunteers from this Province who wore Canada's colours at the Nagano winter games.

We take special pride in the accomplishments of Ontario's medal winners:

- Derrick Campbell, gold medallist in the 5000 metre speed skating relay.
- Elvis Stojko, silver medallist in figure skating.
- Cassie Campbell, Lori Dupuis, Geraldine Heaney, Jayna Hefford, Becky Kellar, Karen Nystrom, Lesley Reddon, Laura Schuler, Vicky Sunohara: Ontario's members of the Canadian silver medal women's ice hockey team.
- Kevin Overland, bronze medallist in long track speed skating.
- Richard Hart, George Karrys, Collin Mitchell, Paul Savage, and skip Mike Harris, silver medallists in men's curling.

We are equally proud of the nine Ontarians who one week later represented Canada at the 1998 Winter Paralympics.

We recognize these athletes for their dedication and competitive spirit: Jeff Dickson, alpine skiing; and Dean Delaurier, Jamie Eddy, Angelo Gavillucci, Robert Lagacé, Hervé Lord, Shawn Matheson, Dean Mellway and Todd Nicholson, Ontario's members of the men's sledge hockey team, who brought home the silver medal.

Ontario officially endorses Toronto's bid to host the XXIXth Olympic Games and the XIIIth Paralympic Games in 2008. The games would showcase the new city to the world, boost tourism and create jobs.

We recognize not only our olympians and paralympians, but all athletes in the Province, and the encouraging family and friends who contribute to their success.

After all, Ontarians' love of sport is fostered by the support of loving families. Who can forget Mom and Dad flooding the rink in the backyard? Or big brother getting up early to drive his little sister to practice?

The Overland family of Kitchener is just one example. Last month at the Ontario Winter Games, 16-year old Amanda won the gold medal in senior women's 1000-metre short track skating. Older sister Cindy and older brother Kevin were both part of the Canadian team at Nagano.

After the medal ceremony, Amanda credited her sister and brother, saying, "I wouldn't have stayed with it if Kevin and Cindy hadn't kept me inspired and given me pep talks."

There are many more reasons for Ontarians to celebrate — so many accomplishments in which we take pride.

We recognize the deep honour bestowed upon the Catholic community, in Toronto and across the Province, when Archbishop Aloysius Ambrozic was created a cardinal.

We share the excitement of Dave Williams, assistant professor in the department of surgery at the University of Toronto, as he orbits the earth on his 16-day mission aboard the space shuttle Columbia.

We congratulate Cornelia Wieman, whose contribution to psychiatric and consulting services for Aboriginal people earned her a 1998 National Aboriginal Achievement Award. When she completes her residency later this year, Dr. Wieman will become the only practising Aboriginal woman psychiatrist in Canada.

We welcome the early success of the Elk Restoration Project, and congratulate the many volunteers and agencies working to repopulate the herds of a magnificent animal that once roamed our Province in great numbers.

We remark on the successful rehabilitation of the Upper Grand River, which has restored this once polluted waterway into one of the world's pre-eminent brown trout fisheries. When trout season opens two days from now, anglers from around the globe again will visit Ontario to enjoy the result of a project to which the Friends of the Grand and so many others have contributed.

A Strong Economy

The economy, too, gives us reason for optimism.

All around, we see: Retail sales at an unprecedented level. Consumer and business confidence high. Housing starts up. Welfare rolls shrinking. Agriculture and food industries leading the nation in farm cash receipts and value-added food production.

And new jobs.

A net increase of over 341,000 new private-sector jobs since September 1995.

261,000 new jobs since February 1997 alone.

The fastest job creation rate in all of Canada. And more Ontarians working than at any other time in this Province's history.

During the brief interval since this House last met:

- Chrysler Canada and the Canadian Auto Workers announced the addition of a third shift at their Bramalea assembly plant, resulting in the creation of 1000 new jobs.
- Babcock & Wilcox Company decided to close a manufacturing plant in Texas and relocate most of the work to Cambridge, Ontario.
- The PLM Group printing company in Markham continued its spectacular growth. In three years, its workforce has tripled to 300, and sales have tripled to almost $90 million. Years ago, CEO Barry Pike and six other employees mortgaged their homes or otherwise found the cash to launch the company. Today he attributes his firm's growth to the "open for business" policies of the Ontario government.

Growth and success are not limited to large and medium-size firms. Small business job creation has exploded across the Province, on main streets, in suburban malls and in industrial parks:

Centel Communications, a Mississauga small business owned by Al Battaglia, hired four new employees, bringing its total workforce to 13 — more than triple its size in 1995. Mr. Battaglia represents the many small business owners who continue to create most of the new jobs in this

Your government was elected on a plan to turn the Province around, strengthen the economy and create jobs.

All evidence confirms: The plan is working.

Your government is doing what it said. Its plan is working. Sound fiscal management is attracting investment. Tax cuts are creating jobs.

The government's ultimate goals remain the same: A strong and prosperous economy. Good jobs for all. High quality services for people. Opportunities for our children. And, as we enter the third millennium, a bright future for everyone.

Dialogue with Ontarians

The plan is working, and you, the people of Ontario, deserve the credit.

Change — even change for the better — is never easy. The first steps of progress are often difficult. Improvement requires the courage to change. Adjustment requires time.

For almost three years Ontarians have shouldered the burden of moving this province back on track. We can take pride in the result. Our sacrifices, our contributions, our determination to build a better future for our children and grandchildren, are paying off.

One of people's most important contributions has been their continued advice and counsel about how to build a brighter future for Ontarians.

The magnitude of change required to pull Ontario from the brink of bankruptcy — the urgent need to kickstart the economy and create jobs — may at times have overshadowed the role and the importance of public input and participation.

Today the government renews the pledge to Ontarians made on the final page of the Common Sense Revolution. We are unconditionally committed to reaching our goal of a better Ontario for all, but we are very open to discussing how we get there.

Many people have already joined in the dialogue about Ontario's future. From participants at open forums and town hall meetings, to public servants offering suggestions on service improvements, to countless callers and letter writers, thousands of Ontarians have offered welcome input that will be reflected in the government's plans for the months ahead.

For example, invited to contribute to the renewal of a strong and united Canada, more than 75,000 citizens have shared their advice. Early in this Session, MPPs will be asked to act on the will of the people thus expressed by considering a resolution to endorse the Calgary framework for unity.

One other thing that people have made clear to this government is that — while much has been accomplished — progress continues and work remains.

Most families are beginning to enjoy the benefits of a strengthened economy. But they want to ensure that the same opportunities are available to future generations. And they recognize that too many in this Province remain unemployed or under-employed.

They've said that the government is headed in the right direction, but must take care that its reforms are implemented carefully and well.

They've expressed concern about the timing and pace of restructuring, and about its impact on people who need more time to adjust.

They agree that change must benefit everyone — that this rising tide must lift all boats.

To these Ontarians, an open reply: Your government is listening. Your government hears you. Your government will move forward with care.

It will move forward with care, but your government will move forward.

It will move forward because that, too, is what people have said.

They want all who need jobs to have jobs — fulfilling, secure, quality jobs on which to build hope for the future.

They want the tax burden on hardworking, middle class Ontario families and on small businesses reduced to fair and acceptable levels.

They want the budget balanced and, after that, they want government to tackle the debt. They understand that the accumulated debt is a pent-up tax burden waiting to fall on their children and grandchildren.

These goals are shared by millions in this Province who work hard, pay taxes, obey the law, raise families, and are active in their communities.

These goals are shared by millions of ordinary Ontarians who have said that government spends too much time catering to itself and to special interests, and not enough time working for them.

Three years ago, these men and women asked for change, trusting that it would benefit them.

To these Ontarians, a solemn pledge: Your government remembers. Your government will keep faith. It will stay the course until your goals are met.

Jobs and Growth

After all, it is people such as these for whom the government is supposed to be working:

People like 18-year old Daryl Whitehead of St. Catharines, who wants the chance for a good job with good pay and a bright future here at home.

He asks, "Will we have the same opportunities that my parents had, or even their parents?"

Your government is determined to give Daryl as many opportunities as he has dreams.

It does so by creating an environment for job creation that attracts growth, investment, and jobs across the Province.

Your government has already cut personal income taxes, payroll taxes and taxes on new homes. In fact, it has cut taxes 30 different times — cut taxes to create hundreds of thousands of jobs.

Consumers have responded by spending to stimulate the economy, and businesses by investing and creating jobs.

Witness the testimony of Brian Johnston from Monarch Construction in Toronto: "We have never felt so positive about putting our money back in the province of Ontario, something I could not have said five years ago when we were pouring millions of dollars into the United States."

Your government will hold fast to the pro-growth, pro-jobs policies needed to ensure that Ontarians succeed in the 21st century:

- Job-creating tax cuts will continue as planned.
- The government is committed to universities, colleges and apprenticeship and training programs that prepare young adults for future employment.
- It will address the shortage of highly-skilled workers, particularly in the area of high technology.
- The government will explore every means of employing Ontario's advanced position in telecommunications hardware and educating, training and learning software to support lifelong learning that allows all of us to adapt to the ever-changing job market.
- Understanding the role that a clean environment plays in attracting jobs and investment, your government is determined to improve our air and water quality through initiatives such as Drive Clean.
- Recognizing the need for meaningful employment and training opportunities for the young people in rural Ontario, it will act on the recommendations of Sandi Shaw, Todd Ramsey, Lisa Alderman and Luc Lapensee, members of the Rural Youth Advisory Panel.
- The government will continue its aggressive pursuit of economic development in Northern Ontario by investing in the northern highway network and in the telecommunications infrastructure so vital to connecting even the most remote northern towns to the world.
- Your government will support job creation in the tourism industry by marketing Ontario to the world, and encouraging Ontarians to explore the rich wonders of their own Province, including the North.
- It will continue to support working families who do not benefit from the existing institutional child care system — with priority given to parents who need help either to start working or to stay at work — and to those wishing to join the more than one-quarter million people who have broken free of dependency on welfare.
- The government will continue to provide the roads and other infrastructure necessary to support a competitive economy.
- MPPs will be asked to consider legislation that: readies our electricity industry for the challenges of competition; eliminates job-killing red tape; amends labour legislation, particularly as it affects the construction industry, in order to attract investment and create job opportunities; and ensures that no future government will be able to increase taxes without the approval of taxpayers through a referendum.
- The government is committed to fair and equal treatment which guarantees Ontario workers and companies the same rights to work and do business in Quebec as that province's workers and companies already enjoy in Ontario.
- The new Ontario Jobs and Investment Board, comprising some of the brightest leaders in business and the community, will seek the views of Ontarians as it leads the development of a winning economic strategy founded on three pillars: encouraging innovation, preparing people for tomorrow's jobs, and creating an infrastructure that supports jobs and growth.

The government's pro-growth policies continue to give hope to people right across this province. They mean that Daryl Whitehead and others can look forward to a bright future here at home.

Educating our Children for the Future

Government must also work for parents and students who demand a high quality education that readies our children and grandchildren for the challenges of the 21st century.

Ontario cannot settle for achievement that is adequate or "good enough." We must judge our education system by results, not effort.

Our goal must be nothing less than excellence.

Only excellence will ensure that all students — such as Ann Fenton's Grade 7 class at Credit Meadows Elementary School in Orangeville — are able to realize their full potential, acquire a lifelong love of learning, remain active participants in their communities and achieve whatever goals they set.

Only excellence will guarantee our children the opportunities of decent, well-paying jobs. Only excellence will attract businesses to our highly-skilled workforce. Only excellence will empower us to compete with Michigan and Ohio, Germany and Japan — with the world.

Only excellence will open doors and lift barriers for boys and girls alike. Only excellence will provide the opportunities that are so important to founder Larissa Vingilis-Jaremko and other members of the Canadian Association of Girls and Science, a national network of girls who want to learn more about science.

This government's reforms have positioned the education system to deliver excellence:

More dollars in the classroom and less money for waste, bureaucracy and trustees.

More of teachers' time spent teaching.

Standardized testing. A back-to-basics curriculum. And report cards that parents can understand.

Let us look to the future: With these exciting reforms — so essential to quality education — now in place, we can focus all of our energies on ensuring that our children attain the results of which we know they are capable.

With structural reform complete, attention can shift to the three pre-requisites to high achievement: Students with the discipline and commitment to learn. Supportive parents at home. And qualified, dedicated teachers in the classroom.

Your government will continue to support students, parents and teachers in their drive for excellence:

- At home and at school, opportunities for parental involvement in education will be enhanced and encouraged.
- In addition to emphasis on the basics, partnerships with the private sector will ensure children's access to 21st century technology. This will assist all students and teachers in the Province, including Andre Masella, Leo D'Aloisio, Margaret Socha and teacher Agatha Griffiths from All Saints Catholic School in Etobicoke, where computer literacy and technological studies have been a priority for years.
- Standardized testing will be expanded, and more detailed results be made widely available.

- Excellence and achievement, by both students and teachers, will be recognized and encouraged.
- The government has already increased the funds available for early learning. World-renowned expert Dr. Fraser Mustard and child advocate the Honourable Margaret McCain will head a study of early learning, and make recommendations on how best to prepare young and pre-school children for a lifetime of education.
- Investment in early learning will help increase children's self esteem, open the door to higher achievement, expand their understanding and horizons, and instill in them a joy of learning that will grow throughout their lives.
- Our schools must be secure environments for learning and teaching — distinguished by discipline, responsibility and respect for others.

Students deserve excellence. Parents demand it. Teachers can deliver it. We must all work to make it happen.

Making Welfare Work

Many Ontarians are still asking why at times it seems more attractive to be on welfare than to work hard and pay the taxes that support welfare.

Many others are asking to be freed from the cycle of welfare dependency — from being trapped in a system that fosters dependence and despair.

The government will continue to work for the benefit of all these citizens.

The best way to do so is to lift people off welfare and up into the workforce.

Just ask anyone who has felt trapped in the welfare system:

Such as Bob Fleming from Hamilton, who says mandatory work-for-welfare gave him new hope: "When I was on social assistance, it was degrading. Now, I'm doing a service to the community, I'm getting skills. I'm meeting people who might be able to give me a job one day and I'm getting a reference."

Or such as Marie Johnson, who in less than 18 months has gone from a daily struggle on welfare to a rewarding and responsible job as an office administrator. She says that work-for-welfare "gives people on social assistance a chance to increase their self-worth and enhance whatever skills they may have or develop new ones so that they're current."

Ontarians believe in the work ethic. So does your government.

Your government will move to the next phase of its plan to convert welfare into work:

- It will expand mandatory work-for-welfare. The ultimate goal is to ensure that every welfare recipient does something of value in exchange for his or her benefits.
- It will increase the number of community service placements.
- It will step up the crackdown on welfare fraud and abuse.
- It will work to simplify a welfare system that still remains too bureaucratic and too complicated. Last year, for example, MPPs had to pass special legislation empowering the government to stop welfare cheques from going to people in prison.

Neither the people nor the government of Ontario will tolerate those who enjoy welfare benefits paid for by the Ontario taxpayer while they defy our laws and threaten the safety of hardworking citizens.

- Through a Learning, Earning, and Parenting initiative the government will encourage young, single parents to stay in school and complete their education.

In some municipalities up to one-half of child care fee subsidies are provided to welfare recipients; these parents can and should take part in workfare or learnfare.

Our ultimate goal must be that all parents on welfare benefit from mandatory workfare through access to child care.

Some groups and some unions continue to oppose the conversion of welfare into work. The leaders of one union say they will “target” non-profit agencies that help people get workfare placements and experience. Last month, leaders of another union announced plans to try to unionize workfare participants — giving rise to the prospect of participants collecting vacation pay or even going on strike for higher welfare benefits. These are real challenges that this government must and will overcome.

Health Care for All

People who work hard and pay taxes — or who have settled into retirement after a lifetime of doing the same — demand that government guarantee health care that is not only modern but available, timely and close at hand.

When this government took office, Ontarians believed that health care was sufficiently funded — provided the money was spent more wisely, and waste and inefficiency were eliminated. Even so, this government has increased health care funding to its highest level in history.

There was also broad agreement that our health care system needed restructuring — that it needed to be updated, better coordinated and more integrated. In the words of Michael Strofolino, President of Sick Children’s Hospital, “There were too many dollars in the hospital system tied up in duplication and inefficiency, in bricks and mortar rather than people; restructuring is essential to free that money and re-direct it to patient needs.”

Despite agreement on these goals, your government has heard, loudly and clearly, the voices of people concerned about the pace and the impact of change.

Voices of parents who want the security of knowing that hospitals are open and emergency services are available when their children need them.

Voices of grown children who worry whether sufficient supports will allow their parents to grow old in their own homes, or whether nursing homes and homes for the aged will be able to accommodate them.

Voices of patients who prefer a system that is based on people — doctors, nurses and other health providers — not just technology and machines.

Your government has heard those concerns. They are real and legitimate. This government will move to address them:

- Despite increasing need and a growing number of seniors, for almost a decade politicians did nothing to expand the number of long-term care beds. Last year the government announced $100 million in new funding for long-term care facilities. Now, using the dividends from hospital restructuring, this government will soon announce a major initiative to increase significantly the number and the quality of long-term care beds.
- The government will also announce substantial increases in community care, including such services as in-home nursing, homemaking programs, supportive housing and services for people with physical disabilities.
- These measures will ensure that nursing homes and homes for the aged have sufficient space to meet the needs of an aging population. They also will mean thousands more front-line nursing jobs, both in community services and in nursing homes and homes for the aged.

In addition to serving our seniors, these measures will have an impact that reverberates through the health care system — freeing beds in hospitals so that they can be more appropriately used for acute care and emergency patients.

- Patient OHIP statements, a “smart” information system and enhanced investigation will help to address health care fraud.
- The government supports the establishment of a health telephone hotline for seniors and others. This was a concept suggested to Premier Harris by Ruby Conway of Port Colborne.

Personal Safety

Government must also stand on the side of women and men concerned about the safety of rural communities and urban streets, or the security of their homes, or violence in school corridors and playgrounds.

Steps are already being taken.

New laws will prevent convicted criminals from changing their names to hide past records, will allow police to warn communities of dangerous offenders, and already protect crime victims through a Victims' Bill of Rights.

Young offenders are held in strict discipline programs that emphasize education and responsibility, not entertainment and recreation. Parents such as Mary Jo Ridgway say the programs give their children the chance for a new future. In the words of Mrs. Ridgway, “Thank you for giving us back our son.”

New members with a new approach have been appointed to the parole board. As Scott Newark, former crown prosecutor and Executive Director of the Canadian Police Association, recently told the Crime Control Commission at its hearing in Burlington: “The result has been a lower parole grant rate for repeat offenders and, for the first time in years, the beginnings of lower crime rates. It’s no accident. Having the courage to make parole a privilege to be earned rather than a right to be demanded has resulted in increased public safety for the people of Ontario.”

While we take comfort in this observation, much work remains.

Many crimes go unreported. Many Ontarians continue to worry for themselves and their families.

In the words of Priscilla de Villiers, President of CAVEAT, Canadians Against Violence Everywhere Advocating its Termination: “Safety in the community is more than the absence of injury. We need to look at the culture of fear — it’s simply unacceptable.”

Whether in parking lots or sandlots, at bank machines or in backyards, on street corners or in streetcars, we all have the right not just to be safe, but to feel safe. Your government will respond:

- It will expand strict discipline programs for young offenders.
- It will do everything necessary to support the law enforcement officers who protect our lives and safety at the risk of their own — committed individuals such as Detective Constable Russ Lillie, an undercover officer shot twice while trying to arrest an alleged drug dealer.
- MPPs will be asked to consider legislation that responds to recommendations of the Crime Control Commission.
- Ontario will continue to press the federal government and Parliament who actually make the criminal laws the provinces enforce. We all want a stronger, more effective Young Offenders Act, in line with the blueprint for reform that Ontario's government has already provided to the federal justice minister; we want criminal sentences that are meaningful, and actually served; we want criminal deportation to be an action, not a concept. Ontario's government will ensure our voices are heard.
- Your government will integrate and better coordinate services for crime victims under a new office for victims.
- convicted sex offenders; increased safety on urban streets and in schools; and protection for victims of domestic violence.

The Threshold of Opportunity

We stand on the threshold of a new century, a new millennium and a new future of opportunity for our children.

Our Province has the capacity, the strength, the resources, the technology and, most importantly, the people — the entrepreneurs, the risk-takers, the skilled workers, the dedicated teachers and healers, the committed police officers and firefighters, the caring volunteers — to make that future one of promise and hope for generations to come.

Let us pledge together that we will create for our children — and their children after them — an Ontario prosperous and proud, the heart of a strong and united Canada, a leader in the world.

This is your government's plan. This is your government's commitment.

Members of the Legislative Assembly, I am confident that your deliberations this Session will serve to make Ontario a better place for all.

God bless Ontario. God bless Canada. God save the Queen.

Monsieur le président, Mesdames et Messieurs les membres de l'Assemblée législative, chers concitoyens et chères concitoyennes,

J'ai le plaisir de vous souhaiter la bienvenue à l'occasion de l'ouverture de la deuxième session de la 36^e législature et de prononcer mon premier discours du trône depuis ma nomination à titre de représentante de Sa Majesté il y a 15 mois.

Depuis notre dernière rencontre, l'Ontario a perdu cinq anciens députés :

- Edward Jolliffe, qui a siégé à l'Assemblée pendant cinq ans, a dirigé la Fédération du commonwealth fédératif et assumé à deux reprises les fonctions de chef de l'opposition officielle.
- Nick Leluk, directeur général fondateur du Conseil sur l'usage abusif de la drogue et député d'Etobicoke pendant 16 ans, a été ministre sous deux administrations.
- Jim McGuigan, du comté de Kent, qui a été agriculteur toute sa vie, a représenté avec dignité et honneur ses électeurs et électrices pendant 13 ans.
- Joseph Salsberg, un champion des droits de la personne et du droit à l'égalité, a représenté pendant 12 ans les citoyens et citoyennes de St. Andrew et a été l'un des deux seuls députés communistes de l'histoire de l'Ontario. Par la suite, il a répudié le communisme, mais il a continué de défendre avec ardeur la cause des travailleuses et travailleurs et le bien-être de sa communauté jusqu'à son décès en février, à l'âge de 95 ans.
- Eddie Sargent, maire d'Owen Sound pendant 15 ans, qui a été réélu sept fois aux élections provinciales, a été pendant 24 ans l'un des députés les plus hauts en couleurs.

Ces cinq députés représentaient toutes les tendances politiques, mais ils étaient tous animés du même désir de faire ce qu'ils croyaient juste. Ce sont des exemples pour nous tous.

Une nation forte

La grandeur de l'Ontario découle à la fois de l'énergie de sa population et de la richesse de son patrimoine naturel. Ces mois derniers, ces deux forces se sont affrontées, les éléments ayant à deux reprises mis notre détermination et notre courage collectifs à rude épreuve.

La tempête historique de verglas de janvier dernier a perturbé la vie des résidentes et résidents de l'Est de l'Ontario et dévasté de nombreuses collectivités. Les travaux de reconstruction n'étaient pas encore terminés lorsque les inondations du printemps ont porté un autre coup dur à la région et à d'autres localités de la province.

Dans chaque cas, l'altruisme, la générosité et l'esprit d'initiative des Ontariens et Ontariennes ont eu raison des forces destructrices de la nature.

Par exemple, Edwin Grant, de Cardinal, a prêté des génératrices portables à ses voisins et les a aidés à assécher leur sous-sol et à faire fonctionner leur chaudière. Il s'est ensuite rendu à Oshawa, à 320 kilomètres de là, pour se procurer d'autres génératrices.

Anne Tackaberry, d'Addison, quant à elle, est allée de maison en maison dans sa localité pour s'assurer que les personnes âgées et les malades avaient du chauffage et de quoi manger. Elle a aussi recueilli chez elle les personnes qui avaient besoin d'un refuge.

Quant à Rob Anderson et Calvin Johnson, de McDonalds Corners, ils sont restés debout toute la nuit du 30 mars pour assécher, avec le matériel de M. Anderson, le sous-sol d'un voisin, au lac Dalhousie, et éteindre un incendie.

Nous rendons hommage à ces héros locaux, aux nombreux agents de police, soldats, préposés aux services d'urgence et bénévoles, et aux milliers d'autres personnes qui ont fait preuve d'une grande générosité lors de ces récentes situations d'urgence.

En fait, en cette Semaine nationale de l'action bénévole, nous saluons tous ceux et celles qui secourent les personnes dans le besoin, qui guident les jeunes, qui protègent les personnes vulnérables, qui réconfortent les infirmes ou qui améliorent la vie dans leur communauté.

Nous tenons aussi à célébrer les réalisations remarquables d'autres héros et héroïnes de l'Ontario, dont les 50 athlètes et entraîneurs, les chefs d'équipe, le personnel médical et les bénévoles de notre province qui ont porté les couleurs du Canada aux Jeux d'hiver de Nagano.

Nous sommes particulièrement fiers des prouesses des médaillés suivants:

- Derrick Campbell, médaille d'or du patinage de vitesse de relais de 5 000 mètres.
- Elvis Stojko, médaille d'argent du patinage artistique.
- Cassie Campbell, Lori Dupuis, Geraldine Heaney, Jayna Hefford, Becky Kellar, Karen Nystrom, Lesley Reddon, Laura Schuler, Vicky Sunohara, membres ontariens de l'équipe féminine canadienne de hockey sur glace, qui a remporté la médaille d'argent.
- Kevin Overland, médaille de bronze du patinage de vitesse sur longue piste.
- Richard Hart, George Karrys, Collin Mitchell, Paul Savage et le capitaine Mike Harris, membres de l'équipe masculine de curling, médailles d'argent.

Nous sommes également fiers des neuf Ontariens qui, une semaine plus tard, ont représenté le Canada aux Jeux paralympiques d'hiver de 1998.

Nous saluons la volonté de réussir et l'esprit de compétition des athlètes suivants : Jeff Dickson, ski alpin; et Dean Delaurier, Jamie Eddy, Angelo Gavillucci, Robert Lagacé, Hervé Lord, Shawn Matheson, Dean Mellway et Todd Nicholson, membres ontariens de l'équipe masculine de hockey sur traîneau qui a gagné la médaille d'argent.

L'Ontario appuie officiellement la candidature de Toronto qui aspire à devenir l'hôte des XXIX^{es} Jeux olympiques et des XIII^{es} Jeux paralympiques en 2008. Les jeux donneraient de l'éclat à la nouvelle ville, stimuleraient le tourisme et créeraient des emplois.

Nous rendons hommage non seulement à nos olympiens et paralympiens, mais également à tous et toutes les athlètes de la province ainsi qu'aux membres de leur famille et à leurs amis qui les encouragent et contribuent à leur succès.

Après tout, l'amour du sport chez les Ontariens et Ontariennes est nourri par l'appui qu'ils reçoivent de leur famille. Qui peut oublier ces pères et ces mères qui arrosent régulièrement la patinoire derrière leur maison? Ou le grand frère qui se lève tôt pour conduire sa petite soeur à sa séance d'entraînement?

La famille Overland, de Kitchener, n'est qu'un exemple parmi tant d'autres. Le mois dernier, aux Jeux d'hiver de l'Ontario, Amanda, 16 ans, a remporté la médaille d'or du patinage senior féminin sur courte piste de 1 000 mètres. Sa soeur aînée, Cindy, et son frère aîné, Kevin, faisaient tous les deux partie de l'équipe qui a représenté le Canada aux Jeux de Nagano.

Après la cérémonie de remise des médailles, Amanda a remercié sa soeur et son frère en ces termes : «Je n'aurais pas poursuivi ce sport si Kevin et Cindy ne m'avaient pas servi de modèles et ne m'avaient pas encouragé comme ils l'ont fait.»

L'Ontario a bien d'autres raisons de se réjouir et d'être fier des si nombreuses réalisations de ses citoyens et citoyennes.

Par exemple, nous sommes très sensibles à l'honneur fait à la communauté catholique de Toronto et de l'ensemble de la province lorsque l'archevêque Aloysius Ambrozic a été promu au cardinalat.

Nous partageons l'exaltation de Dave Williams, professeur adjoint au département de chirurgie de l'Université de Toronto, qui gravitera autour de la Terre pendant les 16 jours que durera la mission de la navette spatiale Columbia.

Nous félicitons Cornelia Wieman qui, par suite des services psychiatriques et de consultation qu'elle a rendus à la collectivité autochtone, a reçu un des Prix nationaux d'excellence décernés aux autochtones en 1998.

Lorsqu'elle terminera sa résidence en psychiatrie dans quelques mois, la D^{re} Wieman sera la seule psychiatre autochtone exerçant sa profession au Canada.

Nous nous réjouissons des premiers succès du Projet de rétablissement de l'élan, et nous rendons hommage aux nombreux bénévoles et organismes qui ont participé à la reconstitution des troupeaux de ces magnifiques animaux autrefois nombreux dans notre province.

Nous applaudissons à la réhabilitation fructueuse du cours supérieur de la rivière Grand. Cette voie d'eau n'est plus polluée et est devenue l'un des hauts lieux du monde pour la truite brune. Lorsque la saison de la pêche à la truite ouvrira dans deux jours, des pêcheurs du monde entier viendront en Ontario et profiteront des résultats du projet auquel les Amis de la rivière Grand et bien d'autres ont participé.

Une économie vigoureuse

L'économie, elle aussi, entretient notre optimisme.

L'amélioration est évidente. Les ventes au détail ont atteint des sommets sans précédent. Le taux de confiance des consommateurs et des entreprises est élevé. Le nombre de mises en chantier augmente. Celui des prestataires de l'aide sociale diminue. Le secteur de l'agriculture et les industries alimentaires de l'Ontario se placent en tête du pays sur le plan des rentrées d'argent et de la production de denrées alimentaires à valeur ajoutée.

La création de nouveaux emplois se poursuit.

On a relevé une augmentation nette de plus de 341 000 nouveaux emplois dans le secteur privé depuis septembre 1995.

En fait, 261 000 emplois ont été créés depuis février 1997 seulement.

L'Ontario affiche le taux de création d'emplois le plus élevé du pays. Et le nombre d'Ontariens et d'Ontariennes sur le marché du travail n'a jamais été aussi important dans toute l'histoire de la province.

Depuis la dernière session de l'Assemblée :

- Chrysler Canada et les Travailleurs et travailleuses canadien(ne)s de l'automobile ont annoncé la mise en place d'un troisième quart de travail à l'usine de montage de Chrysler à Bramalea, d'où la création de 1 000 nouveaux emplois.
- La société Babcock & Wilcox a décidé, quant à elle, de fermer une usine de fabrication au Texas et de transférer la plupart de ses opérations à Cambridge.
- La maison d'impression PLM Group de Markham a poursuivi sa croissance spectaculaire. En trois ans, elle a triplé son effectif qui s'élève maintenant à 300. Les ventes ont elles aussi triplé pour atteindre près de 90 millions de dollars. Il y a des années, le président-directeur général de la firme, Barry Pike, et six employés ont hypothéqué leur maison, entre autres choses, pour trouver les capitaux nécessaires au lancement de l'entreprise. Aujourd'hui, M. Pike attribue la croissance de son entreprise à la politique du gouvernement qui veut faire de l'Ontario «un lieu propice aux affaires».

La croissance et le succès ne sont pas uniquement l'apanage des grandes sociétés et des moyennes entreprises. Le nombre d'emplois créés au sein des petites entreprises a augmenté à un rythme phénoménal partout dans la province, dans les rues principales, dans les centres commerciaux des banlieues et dans les parcs industriels :

- Centel Communications, une petite entreprise de Mississauga qui appartient à Al Battaglia, a engagé quatre nouveaux employés. Son effectif est maintenant de 13, soit plus de trois fois ce qu'il était en 1995. M. Battaglia est l'un de ces nombreux propriétaires de petites entreprises qui continuent de créer la plupart des nouveaux emplois dans la province.

Vous avez élu la présente administration sur la foi de son plan d'action : transformer la province, renforcer l'économie et créer des emplois.

Toutes les preuves le confirment : le plan marche.

Votre gouvernement fait ce qu'il a dit. Son plan d'action marche. Une saine gestion fiscale attire les investissements. Les réductions d'impôt favorisent la création d'emplois.

L'objectif ultime du gouvernement reste le même : une économie vigoureuse et prospère. De bons emplois pour tous. Des services d'une qualité élevée. Des débouchés pour nos enfants. Et, à l'aube de ce troisième millénaire, un avenir brillant pour tous et chacun.

Dialogue avec les Ontariens et Ontariennes

Le programme marche, grâce à vous, citoyennes et citoyens de l'Ontario.

Ce n'est jamais chose aisée de s'adapter au changement — même à un changement en mieux. Les premières phases du progrès sont souvent difficiles. Toute amélioration requiert le courage de changer. L'adaptation prend du temps.

Pendant près de trois ans, les Ontariens et Ontariennes ont porté un lourd fardeau pour remettre la province dans la bonne voie. Nous pouvons être fiers des résultats obtenus. Nos sacrifices, notre contribution, notre volonté de construire un avenir meilleur pour nos enfants et nos petits-enfants portent leurs fruits.

Les conseils et les avis que les citoyennes et citoyens de la province ont régulièrement fournis au gouvernement sur la façon d'améliorer les perspectives d'avenir de la province ont été extrêmement importants.

L'envergure des changements nécessaires pour empêcher l'Ontario de faire faillite — le besoin urgent de relancer l'économie et de créer des emplois — a pu, à l'occasion, éclipser le rôle et l'importance de la participation de la population.

Aujourd'hui, le gouvernement renouvelle la promesse qu'il a faite aux Ontariens et Ontariennes à la dernière page de la Révolution du bon sens. Nous nous engageons inconditionnellement à atteindre notre objectif et à édifier un Ontario meilleur pour tous et chacun, mais nous sommes prêts à discuter des moyens d'y parvenir.

De nombreuses personnes participent déjà au dialogue sur l'avenir de l'Ontario. Certaines prennent part à des tribunes et à des assemblées publiques; des fonctionnaires font des suggestions pour améliorer les services; un grand nombre de personnes nous téléphonent ou nous écrivent. Bref, des milliers d'Ontariens et Ontariennes nous ont soumis des idées qui seront reprises dans les plans que le gouvernement élaborera au cours des mois à venir.

Par exemple, plus de 75 000 citoyens et citoyennes invités à participer au renouvellement d'un Canada fort et uni nous ont communiqué leurs points de vue. Au début de la session qui commence aujourd'hui, les députés devront se prononcer sur les désirs de la population ainsi exprimés et étudier une résolution visant à appuyer le cadre de discussion de Calgary sur l'unité canadienne.

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens ont également déclaré franchement à la présente administration que même si nous avons beaucoup accompli, il reste encore du travail à faire et des progrès à réaliser.

La plupart des familles commencent à profiter des avantages de la relance économique. Mais elles veulent être sûres que les possibilités qui leur sont offertes le seront aussi aux générations à venir. Et elles reconnaissent qu'il y a encore trop de gens dans la province qui sont au chômage ou sous-employés.

Elles ont déclaré que le gouvernement allait dans la bonne direction, mais qu'il devait veiller à ce que ses réformes soient effectuées de façon judicieuse et avec prudence.

Elles ont exprimé leurs inquiétudes quant au calendrier et au rythme de la restructuration et à ses répercussions sur une population qui a besoin d'une période d'adaptation.

Elles conviennent que les changements doivent profiter à tout le monde, que cette marée montante doit porter tous les bateaux.

À toutes ces Ontariennes et à tous ces Ontariens, une réponse s'impose. Votre gouvernement vous écoute. Votre gouvernement vous entend. Votre gouvernement progressera avec prudence.

Il progressera avec prudence, mais il continuera de progresser.

Il progressera parce que c'est aussi ce que la population lui a demandé.

La population veut que toutes celles et tous ceux qui ont besoin d'un emploi trouvent un emploi, un emploi satisfaisant, sûr et de qualité, sur lequel fonder l'avenir avec confiance.

Elle désire que la charge fiscale des familles de travailleurs de la classe moyenne de l'Ontario ainsi que celle des petites entreprises soit ramenée à un niveau juste et acceptable.

Elle veut que le budget soit équilibré et, cela fait, elle demande que le gouvernement s'attaque à la dette. Elle comprend que la dette accumulée est une épée de Damoclès qui finira par tomber sur ses enfants et petits-enfants.

Ces objectifs sont partagés par des millions de personnes dans la province qui travaillent dur, paient leurs impôts, respectent la loi, élèvent leur famille et participent activement à la vie de leur communauté.

Ils sont partagés par des millions d'Ontariennes et Ontariens ordinaires qui ont déclaré que le gouvernement passait trop de temps à s'occuper de lui-même et d'intérêts particuliers, et pas assez de temps à travailler pour eux.

Il y a trois ans, ces hommes et ces femmes ont opté pour le changement, confiants qu'ils en retireraient des avantages.

À ces Ontariennes et Ontariens, nous faisons une promesse solennelle : Votre gouvernement n'a pas oublié son engagement. Il garde confiance. Il tiendra bon jusqu'à ce que vos objectifs soient atteints.

Emplois et croissance

Après tout, le gouvernement est censé être au service de gens comme Daryl :

Daryl Whitehead, de St. Catharines, a 18 ans. Il veut trouver un emploi intéressant avec un bon salaire et s'assurer un bel avenir ici, en Ontario.

Daryl demande : «Aurons-nous les mêmes chances que nos parents ou même nos grands-parents?»

Votre gouvernement est déterminé à offrir à Daryl autant de possibilités d'avenir qu'il a de rêves.

Il le fait en instaurant un climat propice à la création d'emplois et qui favorise la croissance et l'investissement dans toute la province.

Votre gouvernement a déjà réduit l'impôt sur le revenu des particuliers, les charges sociales et les taxes sur les habitations neuves. En fait, il a réduit les impôts à 30 reprises, afin de créer des centaines de milliers d'emplois.

Les consommateurs ont réagi en augmentant leurs dépenses pour stimuler l'économie, et les entreprises en accroissant leurs investissements et en créant des emplois.

Écoutez le témoignage de Brian Johnston, de Monarch Construction, à Toronto : «Nous n'avons jamais réinvesti notre argent en Ontario avec autant de confiance. Je n'aurais pas pu dire la même chose il y a trois ans, lorsque nous laissions des millions de dollars filer aux États-Unis.»

Votre gouvernement restera fidèle aux politiques favorables à la croissance et à l'emploi, lesquelles seront la clé du succès des Ontariennes et Ontariens au XXI^e siècle :

- Il poursuivra comme prévu sa politique de réductions d'impôts génératrices d'emploi.
- Le gouvernement s'engage à soutenir les programmes des paliers universitaire et collégial et les programmes d'apprentissage qui préparent les jeunes adultes à l'emploi.
- Il fera ce qu'il faut pour pallier la pénurie de travailleurs spécialisés, particulièrement dans le secteur de la technologie de pointe.
- Le gouvernement cherchera par tous les moyens à se prévaloir de la position avantageuse de l'Ontario dans les secteurs du matériel informatique, des didacticiels et des logiciels de formation et d'apprentissage pour favoriser le perfectionnement continu et l'adaptation de tous et chacun à un marché en perpétuelle évolution.
- Conscient du fait qu'un environnement sain attire les emplois et les investissements, votre gouvernement a fermement décidé d'améliorer la qualité de l'air et de l'eau en prenant des initiatives comme Opération air pur.
- En reconnaissance de la nécessité d'offrir de sérieuses possibilités de formation et d'emploi aux jeunes des régions rurales de l'Ontario, le gouvernement mettra en oeuvre les recommandations de Sandi Shaw, Todd Ramsey, Lisa Alderman et Luc Lapensée, membres du Comité consultatif pour les jeunes en milieu rural.

Le gouvernement poursuivra activement ses initiatives d'expansion économique dans le Nord de l'Ontario en continuant à développer le réseau routier du Nord et en investissant dans l'infrastructure des télécommunications, secteur essentiel qui permet de relier les villes du Nord les plus reculées au reste du monde.

- Votre gouvernement soutiendra la création d'emplois dans l'industrie touristique en faisant la promotion de l'Ontario à travers le monde et en encourageant les Ontariens et Ontariennes à découvrir les merveilles de leur province, notamment celles du Nord.
- Il continuera à appuyer les familles de travailleurs qui ne bénéficient pas du système de garderies existant et donnera la priorité aux parents qui ont besoin d'aide soit pour commencer à travailler, soit pour conserver leur emploi, et à ceux qui désirent se joindre au grand nombre de personnes — plus d'un quart de million — qui se sont affranchies de leur dépendance à l'égard de l'aide sociale.
- Le gouvernement continuera à entretenir les routes et les autres infrastructures nécessaires pour soutenir une économie de concurrence.
- Les députés seront invités à examiner des textes de loi qui visent les objectifs suivants : préparer l'industrie de l'électricité à faire face aux défis de la concurrence; éliminer les formalités administratives qui tuent les emplois; modifier la législation du travail, particulièrement dans le secteur de la construction, afin d'attirer les investissements et de créer des perspectives d'emploi; et garantir qu'aucun gouvernement à venir ne pourra augmenter les impôts sans l'autorisation préalable des contribuables par voie de référendum.
- Le gouvernement fera en sorte qu'aux termes de mesures justes et équitables, les travailleurs et les entreprises de l'Ontario jouissent des mêmes droits, lorsqu'il s'agit de travailler et de faire des affaires au Québec, que ceux dont bénéficient déjà les entreprises et les travailleurs du Québec en Ontario.
- Le nouveau Conseil de l'emploi et de l'investissement de l'Ontario, qui réunit certains des chefs d'entreprise et des leaders communautaires les plus distingués, consultera la population ontarienne dans le cadre de l'élaboration d'une stratégie économique prometteuse fondée sur trois piliers : l'encouragement à l'innovation, la préparation aux emplois de demain et la création d'une infrastructure favorable à l'emploi et à la croissance.

Les politiques gouvernementales en faveur de la croissance continuent à redonner espoir à la population de toute la province. Grâce à ces politiques, Daryl Whitehead et d'autres peuvent envisager l'avenir avec confiance, ici dans la province.

Une éducation qui prépare nos enfants à l'avenir

Le gouvernement se doit aussi de donner suite au désir des parents et des élèves qui exigent une éducation de qualité pour préparer nos enfants et petits-enfants aux défis du XXI^e siècle.

L'Ontario ne peut pas se satisfaire de résultats simplement acceptables ou «passables». Les efforts ne suffisent pas. C'est par ses résultats qu'il faut juger notre système d'éducation.

Notre objectif doit être l'excellence.

Seule l'excellence fera en sorte que toutes et tous les élèves, comme ceux de la classe de 7^e année d'Ann Fenton à l'école élémentaire Credit Meadows d'Orangeville, puissent réaliser pleinement leur potentiel, acquérir pour toute la vie le goût d'apprendre, continuer de participer activement à la vie de leur communauté et atteindre leurs objectifs, quels qu'ils soient.

Seule l'excellence garantira à nos élèves des emplois décents et lucratifs. Seule l'excellence encouragera les entreprises à faire appel à notre main-d'oeuvre hautement spécialisée. Seule l'excellence nous permettra de nous mesurer avec le Michigan et l'Ohio, l'Allemagne et le Japon — avec le monde entier.

Seule l'excellence éliminera les obstacles et ouvrira les portes aux filles comme aux garçons. Seule l'excellence offrira les possibilités jugées si importantes par Larissa Vingilis-Jaremko, fondatrice de l'association canadienne des jeunes filles pour la science, un réseau national de jeunes filles qui veulent s'initier davantage à la science, et par les membres de l'association.

Les réformes que notre gouvernement a apportées au système d'éducation lui permettront de favoriser l'excellence :

Il y aura davantage d'argent pour l'enseignement même, et moins d'argent pour le gaspillage, la bureaucratie et les conseillères et conseillers scolaires.

Le personnel enseignant passera plus de temps à enseigner.

Les tests seront normalisés. Le curriculum sera davantage axé sur l'essentiel. Et les parents pourront comprendre les bulletins scolaires de leurs enfants.

C'est l'avenir qui nous intéresse. Maintenant que sont en place ces remarquables réformes, pierre angulaire d'une éducation de qualité, nous pouvons concentrer toutes nos énergies sur nos enfants pour leur permettre d'atteindre les résultats dont nous les savons capables.

Une fois terminée la réforme des structures, nous pourrons tourner notre attention vers les trois conditions indispensables à la haute performance. Des élèves ayant la discipline et la volonté nécessaires pour apprendre. L'encouragement des parents à la maison. Et des enseignantes et enseignants qualifiés dans la classe.

Votre gouvernement continuera à apporter son soutien aux élèves, aux parents et au personnel enseignant dans leur recherche de l'excellence :

- À la maison comme à l'école, les parents seront fortement invités et encouragés à participer à l'éducation de leurs enfants.
- Outre l'importance accordée aux connaissances de base, des partenariats seront établis avec le secteur privé pour assurer aux enfants l'accès à la technologie du XXI^e siècle. Cela aidera tous les élèves et tous les enseignants de la province, notamment Andre Masella, Leo D'Aloisio, Margaret Socha et l'enseignante Agatha Griffiths de l'école catholique All Saints d'Etoibicoke où les connaissances informatiques et les études technologiques constituent une priorité depuis des années.
- Les tests normalisés seront étendus et leurs résultats détaillés seront largement diffusés.
- L'excellence et la réussite seront reconnues et encouragées aussi bien chez les élèves qu'au sein du personnel enseignant.

Le gouvernement a déjà augmenté les fonds alloués à l'apprentissage pendant les premières années d'études. M. Fraser Mustard, spécialiste de renommée mondiale, et l'honorable Margaret McCain, intervenante en faveur des enfants, prendront la direction d'une étude sur l'apprentissage pendant les premières années d'études et feront des recommandations sur la façon de préparer les jeunes enfants et les enfants d'âge préscolaire à une éducation qui se poursuivra toute leur vie.

L'investissement dans le secteur de l'apprentissage pendant les premières années d'études contribuera à renforcer l'estime de soi chez les enfants, les préparera à la réussite, approfondira leur compréhension, élargira leurs horizons et leur fera découvrir une joie d'apprendre qu'ils conserveront toute leur vie.

- Nos écoles doivent être des lieux sûrs où apprendre et enseigner; des lieux où se distinguer par la discipline, le sens de la responsabilité et le respect de l'autre.

Les élèves méritent l'excellence. Les parents l'exigent. Les enseignants et enseignantes peuvent la dispenser. L'excellence doit être notre but à tous.

L'aide sociale

Beaucoup d'Ontariennes et d'Ontariens voudraient savoir pourquoi il semble parfois plus intéressant de bénéficier de l'aide sociale que de travailler dur et de payer les impôts qui la financent.

Beaucoup d'autres veulent qu'on les aide à s'affranchir du cycle de la dépendance à l'égard de l'aide sociale, de l'emprisonnement dans un système qui encourage la sujétion et le désespoir.

Le gouvernement continuera à travailler au bien-être de toutes ces personnes.

La meilleure façon de procéder est d'aider les gens à se dégager de l'aide sociale et à trouver une place au sein de la population active.

Il suffit de demander à quiconque s'est trouvé pris dans le système d'aide sociale :

Comme Bob Fleming, de Hamilton, qui déclare que le programme de travail obligatoire lui a donné un nouvel espoir : «Quand je recevais de l'aide sociale, c'était dégradant. Maintenant, je rends service à la collectivité, j'acquiers des compétences. Je rencontre des gens qui pourraient un jour m'offrir un emploi et je me constitue des références.»

Ou comme Marie Johnson qui, en moins de 18 mois, est passée de l'aide sociale, et des difficultés quotidiennes connexes, à un emploi responsable et satisfaisant comme chef de bureau. Elle dit que le programme de travail obligatoire «donne aux prestataires de l'aide sociale la chance d'accroître leur confiance en eux et d'étoffer leurs compétences ou d'en acquérir de nouvelles pour se mettre au niveau du marché».

Les Ontariennes et Ontariens croient à l'éthique du travail. Votre gouvernement y croit aussi.

Votre gouvernement va passer à l'étape suivante de son plan de conversion de l'aide sociale en travail :

- Il élargira le programme de travail obligatoire. L'objectif ultime est de faire en sorte que chaque bénéficiaire de l'aide sociale fasse quelque chose de productif en échange de ses prestations.
- Il augmentera le nombre de placements en service communautaire.

Il intensifiera la lutte contre la fraude et les abus auxquels l'aide sociale donne lieu.

- Il travaillera à simplifier un système d'aide sociale qui reste encore trop bureaucratique et trop compliqué. L'année dernière, par exemple, les députés ont dû adopter une loi spéciale pour habiliter le gouvernement à mettre fin à l'envoi de chèques d'aide sociale aux personnes incarcérées.

Ni la population ni le gouvernement de l'Ontario ne toléreront ceux et celles qui profitent des prestations d'aide sociale payées par les contribuables, alors qu'ils défient nos lois et menacent la sécurité des citoyens productifs.

- Le gouvernement prendra des initiatives favorisant l'apprentissage, l'autonomie financière et l'acquisition de compétences parentales pour encourager les jeunes parents célibataires à rester à l'école et à finir leurs études.

Dans certaines municipalités, près de la moitié des subventions pour frais de garde d'enfants sont versées à des bénéficiaires de l'aide sociale; ces parents peuvent et devraient participer aux programmes de travail ou d'études obligatoires. Il faut viser à ce que tous les parents qui bénéficient de l'aide sociale aient accès à des services de garde d'enfants pour pouvoir participer au programme de travail obligatoire.

Certains groupes et certains syndicats continuent à s'opposer à la conversion de l'aide sociale en travail. Les dirigeants d'un syndicat déclarent qu'ils vont «prendre pour cible» les organismes à but non lucratif qui aident les gens à obtenir des placements et de l'expérience aux termes du programme de travail obligatoire. Le mois dernier, les dirigeants d'un autre syndicat ont annoncé qu'ils projetaient d'essayer de syndiquer les participants au travail obligatoire, ce qui pourrait leur donner droit à des congés payés ou même à la possibilité de se mettre en grève pour obtenir une augmentation de leurs prestations d'aide sociale. Ce sont là de véritables défis que le gouvernement doit relever et qu'il relèvera.

Des soins de santé pour tous

Les gens qui travaillent fort et paient leurs impôts, ou qui sont à la retraite après une vie active laborieuse et responsable, exigent que le gouvernement garantisse des soins de santé qui ne soient pas seulement modernes, mais qui soient aussi disponibles, offerts au moment opportun et facilement accessibles.

Lorsque notre gouvernement est arrivé au pouvoir, la population ontarienne estimait que le niveau de financement des soins était suffisant; il fallait toutefois dépenser judicieusement et éliminer le gaspillage et l'inefficacité. Pourtant, le présent gouvernement a porté le financement des soins de santé au niveau le plus élevé de l'histoire de la province.

De plus, on convenait généralement que notre système de santé devait être restructuré, qu'il avait besoin d'être mis à jour, mieux coordonné et plus intégré. Selon Michael Strofolino, président du Hospital for Sick Children, «il y avait trop de double emploi et d'inefficacité dans le système hospitalier; des sommes trop considérables étaient bloquées dans les installations plutôt que d'être affectées aux malades. La restructuration a permis de libérer ces fonds et de les réorienter vers les besoins des patients.»

Bien que ces objectifs fassent l'unanimité, votre gouvernement a entendu bien distinctement la voix de ceux et celles qui s'inquiètent du rythme et des répercussions des changements.

La voix de parents qui veulent avoir l'assurance que les hôpitaux seront ouverts et que les services d'urgence seront disponibles lorsque leurs enfants en auront besoin.

La voix d'enfants devenus adultes qui se demandent s'il existera des services de soutien suffisants pour permettre à leurs parents de vieillir chez eux, ou s'il y aura de la place pour eux dans les maisons de soins infirmiers et les foyers pour personnes âgées.

La voix de patientes et de patients qui préfèrent un système basé sur l'être humain — les médecins, le personnel infirmier et les autres fournisseurs de services de santé — plutôt que sur la technologie et les appareils.

Votre gouvernement a prêté l'oreille à ces préoccupations, qui sont réelles et légitimes. Nous prendrons les mesures suivantes à cet effet:

- Malgré des besoins grandissants et un nombre croissant de personnes âgées, les politiciens n'ont rien fait pendant près de 10 ans pour augmenter le nombre de lits de soins de longue durée. L'an dernier, le gouvernement a annoncé que le financement des établissements de soins de longue durée serait majoré de 100 millions de dollars. Cette année, mettant à profit les dividendes de la restructuration des hôpitaux, le gouvernement dévoilera bientôt une importante initiative visant à accroître le nombre et la qualité des lits de soins de longue durée.
 - Le gouvernement annoncera également des augmentations substantielles dans le secteur des soins communautaires, notamment en ce qui concerne les soins infirmiers à domicile, les services de jour d'aides familiales, les logements supervisés et les services destinés aux personnes ayant un handicap physique.
 - Grâce à ces mesures, les maisons de soins infirmiers et les foyers pour personnes âgées auront suffisamment de places pour répondre aux besoins d'une population vieillissante. Ces initiatives se traduiront également par la création de milliers d'emplois de première ligne dans le secteur des soins infirmiers, tant dans les services communautaires que dans les maisons de soins infirmiers et les foyers pour personnes âgées.
- En plus de répondre aux besoins de nos personnes âgées, ces mesures auront des répercussions qui s'étendront à l'échelle du système de santé; elles permettront de libérer des lits d'hôpitaux, qui pourront ainsi être utilisés de façon plus appropriée pour les soins aigus et les services d'urgence.
- L'envoi aux clients de relevés de l'Assurance-santé, la mise au point d'un système «intelligent» d'information et des enquêtes plus approfondies aideront à combattre la fraude dans le domaine des soins de santé.
 - Le gouvernement appuie la création d'un service d'information téléphonique en matière de santé à l'intention des personnes âgées et des autres citoyens. Cette idée a été suggérée au premier ministre, Monsieur Harris, par Ruby Conway de Port Colborne.

Sécurité personnelle

Le gouvernement doit également être aux côtés des femmes et des hommes qui se préoccupent de la sûreté dans nos localités rurales et urbaines, qui s'inquiètent de la sécurité dans leur propre foyer, ou qui craignent la violence dans les écoles et les terrains de jeux.

Nous prenons déjà des mesures à cet égard.

De nouvelles lois empêcheront les criminels condamnés de changer de nom pour cacher leurs antécédents, permettront à la police d'aviser les collectivités de la présence de délinquants dangereux et protégeront les victimes d'actes criminels grâce à une Charte des droits des victimes d'actes criminels.

Les jeunes contrevenants sont détenus dans le cadre de programmes disciplinaires stricts, qui mettent l'accent sur l'éducation et la responsabilité, et non sur les divertissements et le jeu. Certains parents, comme Mary Jo Ridgway, estiment que ces programmes offrent à leurs enfants la chance de se donner un nouvel avenir. «Merci de nous avoir redonné notre fils», de dire Madame Ridgway.

De nouveaux membres, préconisant une approche nouvelle, ont été nommés à la Commission des libérations conditionnelles. Lors des audiences de la Commission de lutte contre le crime tenues récemment à Burlington, Scott Newark, ancien procureur de la Couronne et directeur général de l'Association canadienne des policiers, a déclaré : «Cela a entraîné une réduction du taux d'octroi de la libération conditionnelle chez les récidivistes et, pour la première fois depuis des années, une diminution du taux de criminalité. Il ne s'agit pas là d'un accident. On a eu le courage de faire de la libération conditionnelle un privilège à mériter plutôt qu'un droit à exercer, et cela s'est traduit par un renforcement de la sécurité publique pour la population ontarienne.»

Bien que cette constatation nous réconforte, il reste encore beaucoup à faire.

Beaucoup d'actes criminels ne sont jamais signalés aux autorités. Nombre d'Ontariennes et d'Ontariens continuent de s'inquiéter pour leur famille et pour eux-mêmes.

Selon Priscilla DeVilliers, présidente de CAVEAT (Canadians Against Violence Everywhere Advocating its Termination), «la sécurité dans la collectivité va plus loin que le simple fait de ne pas subir de blessures. Nous devons examiner la culture de la peur, qui est tout à fait inacceptable.»

Que l'on soit dans un parc de stationnement ou un terrain de jeux, à un guichet automatique ou dans son jardin, à un coin de rue ou dans un tramway, chacun et chacune d'entre nous a le droit non seulement d'être en sécurité, mais aussi de se sentir en sécurité. Voici les mesures que prendra votre gouvernement à cet égard

- Il renforcera ses programmes disciplinaires stricts à l'intention des jeunes contrevenants et contrevenantes.
- Il fera tout le nécessaire pour appuyer les agents de la paix qui, à leurs propres risques, protègent nos vies et notre sécurité — des agents dévoués comme le policier-détective Russ Lillie, un agent banalisé qui a reçu deux balles en essayant d'appréhender un présumé trafiquant de drogues.
- Nous demanderons aux députés d'examiner un projet de loi tenant compte des recommandations de la Commission de lutte contre le crime.
- L'Ontario continuera d'exercer des pressions sur le gouvernement fédéral et le Parlement, qui sont en fait les auteurs des lois criminelles mises en application par les provinces. Nous voulons tous que la Loi sur les jeunes contrevenants soit renforcée et plus efficace, conformément au plan de réforme que le gouvernement ontarien a déjà remis au ministre fédéral de la Justice; nous voulons que les sentences soient pertinentes et qu'elles soient bel et bien purgées; nous voulons que la déportation de criminels soit une mesure concrète, et non un concept. Le gouvernement de l'Ontario veillera à faire entendre nos voix.
- Votre gouvernement va intégrer et mieux coordonner les services à l'intention des victimes d'actes criminels, les regroupant au sein d'un office qui sera créé pour aider ces victimes.
- Votre gouvernement prendra également des mesures pour constituer un registre de pédophiles et d'autres délinquants sexuels reconnus coupables, accroître la sécurité dans les rues et les écoles et protéger les victimes de violence familiale.

AU SEUIL D'UN TOURNANT DÉCISIF

Nous sommes au seuil d'un nouveau siècle, d'un nouveau millénaire et d'un nouvel avenir pour nos enfants.

Notre province a la capacité, la force, les richesses, la technologie et, ce qui est plus important encore, les ressources humaines — les entrepreneurs, les audacieux qui osent prendre des risques, les travailleurs qualifiés, les membres dévoués des professions enseignante et médicale, les policiers et les pompiers engagés, les bénévoles attentifs — pour offrir aux générations futures un avenir rempli de promesses et d'espoir.

Prenons ensemble l'engagement de créer, pour nos enfants et les enfants qu'ils auront, un Ontario prospère et fier, le coeur d'un Canada fort et uni, un chef de file dans le monde.

Tel est le plan de votre gouvernement. Tel est l'engagement qu'il prend.

Membres de l'Assemblée législative, je suis convaincue que vos délibérations, au cours de la session qui commence, feront de l'Ontario une meilleure province pour nous tous.

Dieu bénisse l'Ontario. Dieu bénisse le Canada. Dieu protège la Reine.

Her Honour was then pleased to retire.

The amendment to the motion as follows:-

La modification de la motion est la suivante:-

That the motion be amended by adding the following thereto:-

"Whereas the Harris government has ignored the needs of patients and compromised patient care by firing 10,000 nurses, cutting hospital budgets by $800 million annually and threatening to close 32 community hospitals; and

Whereas the Harris government has ignored teachers, parents and students by cutting over $1 billion from our children's classrooms, forcing the elimination of programs such as Junior Kindergarten and Adult Education and continually attacked friends of public education; and

Whereas the Harris government has refused to listen to the voices of children by ignoring the need to reform the child welfare system, by reducing the benefits available to children on welfare; and by failing to make children a real priority in Ontario; and

Whereas despite promises not to open unwelcomed neighbourhood casinos, the Harris government has recklessly moved ahead to create 44 neighbourhood casinos; and

Whereas the Mike Harris government has broken his promise to not cut programs to the disabled and has done nothing to increase access that disabled people desperately need to go to school and find jobs and to participate in our communities; and

Whereas Mike Harris holds those less fortunate in contempt and continues his personal attack on the poor and most vulnerable in Ontario;

This House profoundly regrets that the Harris government has acted on an agenda which has caused significant hardship for our youngest, our oldest, our sickest and our least fortunate in society."

After some time,

Après quelque temps,

Mr. McGuinty moved that the motion moved by the Minister of Finance on May 5 "That this House approves in general the budgetary policy of the government" be amended by deleting the words after "that this House" and adding thereto the following:

"Recognizing that this hit-and-run budget is designed to distract the people of Ontario from three years of cuts, chaos and a record of broken promises; and

That Mike Harris broke his promise not to close hospitals; and

That Mike Harris broke his promise not to expand casino gambling; and

That Mike Harris has cut $870 million from hospitals and has fired over 10,000 nurses and front-line workers since taking office; and

That Mike Harris broke his promise that there would be "no new user fees" when he forced seniors and the poor to pay an additional $225 million in new user fees for prescription medication; and

That the Mike Harris government has delisted over $170 million annually in OHIP services; and

That the Mike Harris government has left 17,901 patients on waiting lists for long-term care beds in Ontario; and

That the Mike Harris government cut $533 million from classrooms and plans to cut an additional $900 million from our schools in the new funding formula; and

That 22 school boards have cut junior kindergarten, 53 boards have cut special education and 21 school boards have cut adult education; and

That Mike Harris has raised tuition fees by 60% and has deregulated tuition fees for graduate, professional and some college programs; and

That Mike Harris has cut $65 million from child care; and

That Mike Harris has failed to implement the recommendations of the Coroner's juries to prevent further cases of child abuse and deaths; and

That Mike Harris has cut $50.4 million to services for developmentally disabled children and adults, $8 million to children's mental health services and reduced access to dental services for children; and

That Mike Harris has failed to listen to the public's concerns over deteriorating patient care; and

That after all this, Mike Harris has failed to balance the budget because of his irresponsible tax cut; and

That Mike Harris has proved that he simply cannot be trusted to protect our health care, to improve our education or to take the steps necessary to make sure our children get off to the best start in life;

Therefore this House has lost confidence in this government."

PRIÈRES

13 H 30

On motion by Mr. Sterling,

Sur la motion de M. Sterling,

Ordered, That, pursuant to Standing Order 9(c), the House shall meet from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on May 11, 12, and 13, 1998 for the purpose of considering government business.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

Last Wednesday, May 6, 1998 the Member for St. Catharines (Mr. Bradley) raised a point of privilege with respect to government advertising. The Member for Algoma (Mr. Wildman), the Member for Carleton (Mr. Sterling) and the Member for Scarborough-Agincourt (Mr. Phillips) also contributed to the discussion on this matter.

I want to first address the issue of timeliness that was referred to by the Government House Leader. It is true that matters of privilege must be raised at the first available opportunity and members should always be cognizant of that fact. However, since the documents submitted to me are dated up to and including May 6, 1998 I have allowed the point to be made and considered.

I want to begin by again providing for all Honourable members a definition of privilege. Standing Order 21 states that "(p)rivileges are the rights enjoyed by the House collectively and by the members of the House individually conferred by the Legislative Assembly Act and other statutes, or by practice, precedent, usage and custom". Examples of privileges enjoyed by members are: freedom of speech; freedom from arrest in civil actions; exemption from jury duty; exemption from attendance as a witness and freedom from molestation.

In considering the advertising in question, my responsibility is to determine whether anything in it interferes with any proceeding of this legislature in such a manner as to intimidate or hinder or attempt by improper means to influence a member in the performance of his or her duties.

The member for St. Catharines quoted from an earlier ruling I gave on a similar matter. If he had continued on with that quote, however, he would have noted that I was expressing a personal view and that I went on to say that "I do not have the jurisdiction to examine the propriety of such campaigns unless they raise a matter of privilege or contempt". As Speaker Sauvé of the Canadian House of Commons indicated in her ruling of October 17, 1980 it is not the spending of money that is at issue, but rather whether or not such an expenditure has lead to any interference with the proceedings of Parliament.

It is not clear from what the member has said what head of privilege he feels is being breached, nevertheless I have reviewed the advertising in question. The ads do not in my opinion attempt by improper means to influence members in their parliamentary conduct. They do not impede freedom of speech in this House, nor in fact do they relate to a particular proceeding currently before us. Therefore, I can find no basis on which to find a prima facie case of privilege.

I further considered the advertising in question with a view to determining whether or not it amounted to contempt of this House. The ads do not in my opinion obstruct or impede the House or any Member or officer in the performance of duties or functions. They have not diminished the respect due to the House, nor do they reflect negatively on it. I cannot therefore find that a prima facie case of contempt has been made out.

I thank all members for their submissions on this matter.

PETITIONS

Petitions relating to Stopping the funding of abortions (Sessional Paper No. P-1) (Tabled May 11, 1998) Mr. D. Duncan, Ms. S. Martel.

Petition relating to Enacting legislation to recognize freedom of health care workers (Sessional Paper No. P-7) (Tabled May 11, 1998) Mr. F. Klees.

Petition relating to Stopping the restructuring project and providing funding to the developmentally disabled (Sessional Paper P-19) (Tabled May 11, 1998) Mrs. S. Pupatello.

Petition relating to the Protection of our hunting heritage and the support of black bear hunting (Sessional Paper No. P-22) (Tabled May 11, 1998) Mr. B. Grimmett.

Petition relating to Respecting the Nurses' Bill of Rights (Sessional Paper No. P-30) (Tabled May 11, 1998) Mr. R. Bartolucci.

With unanimous consent, the House reverted to "Motions" and the following motion was moved without notice:-

With unanimous consent, on behalf of Mr. Hampton, Mr. Silipo moved,

Sur la motion de M. Sterling,

Sur la motion de M. Sterling,

ORDRE DU JOUR

Jour de l'opposition

Avec le consentement unanime, au nom de M. Hampton, M. Silipo propose,

Whereas the federal Liberal government in Ottawa is negotiating a Multilateral Agreement on Trade, ignoring the clear opposition of many provincial governments, municipalities and Canadians throughout the country; and

Whereas the MAI, negotiated for years in secret by the federal Liberals before activists forced it into the open, would provide a charter of freedoms for corporate investors with no clear benefits for the people of Canada; and

Whereas supporters of MAI, especially the trade minister and other members of the Liberal Cabinet in Ottawa, show no appreciation for the importance of strong environmental protection, high-quality health care and vibrant public education to the stable economy of our communities, our province and our country; and

Whereas the Ontario government has joined other provinces in expressing reservations about the draft MAI; and

Whereas growing opposition throughout Canada and the world has forced a delay in negotiations, but have not killed the proposed MAI;

Be it therefore resolved that this House urges the federal government to immediately demand a halt to the current MAI negotiations and call on the government to refuse to be part of any agreement that would enshrine the rights of corporate investors over the rights of the people of Canada and other countries around the world.

Mr. Bradley moved,

M. Bradley propose,

Whereas Mike Harris promised Ontarians that he would not expand casino gambling, stating: "No new taxes. No new fees. No hidden taxes. My friends, I am committed to these. No photo radar, no casinos"; and

Whereas Mike Harris also said in regard to casino gambling, "I don't want a million dollars a day into the province of Ontario. I don't want the money. I don't want the Ontario government to have it"; and

Whereas Mike Harris said that gambling doesn't come cheap and that "It brings crime, it brings prostitution, it brings a lot of the things that maybe areas didn't have before. There is a big cost to pay"; and

Whereas Mike Harris said that "Every officer and every policing dollar that goes towards casino crime or that kind of criminal activity is a dollar that's taken away from fighting crime that currently exists on our streets"; and

Whereas Mike Harris criticized the former NDP government for not conducting social and economic impact studies before it introduced casino gambling; and

Whereas now the Mike Harris government is expanding gambling without regard to the impact and without regard to its commitments to Ontarians;

Therefore, this House calls upon the Mike Harris government to explain why it has not kept its campaign promises with respect to the expansion of gambling in Ontario; to listen to the communities across the province who have overwhelmingly rejected the Harris plan to establish 44 neighbourhood casinos; and to stop its attempts to force charities, municipalities and citizens into accepting these gambling halls.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY

VINGT-CINQUIÈME JOUR

6:30 P.M.

18 H 30

ORDERS OF THE DAY

ORDRE DU JOUR

Mr. Harris moved,

M. Harris propose,

Be it resolved that the Legislature of the Province of Ontario hereby endorses the following:

All Canadians are equal and have rights protected by law.

All provinces, while diverse in their characteristics, have equality of status.

Canada is graced by a diversity, tolerance, compassion and equality of opportunity that is without rival in the world.

Canada's diversity includes Aboriginal peoples and cultures, the vitality of the English and French languages, and a multicultural citizenry drawn from all parts of the world.

In Canada's federal system, where respect for diversity and equality underlies unity, the unique character of Quebec society, including its French speaking majority, its culture, and its tradition of civil law, is fundamental to the well being of Canada. Consequently, the legislature and Government of Quebec have a role to protect and develop the unique character of Quebec society within Canada.

If any future constitutional amendment confers powers on one province, these powers must be available to all provinces.

Canada is a federal system where federal, provincial, and territorial governments work in partnership while respecting each other's jurisdictions. Canadians want their governments to work cooperatively and with flexibility to ensure the efficiency and effectiveness of the federation. Canadians want their governments to work together particularly in the delivery of their social programs. Provinces and territories renew their commitment to work in partnership with the government of Canada to best serve the needs of Canadians.

Que l'Assemblée législative de la Province de l'Ontario appuie ce qui suit:

Tous les Canadiens et Canadiennes sont égaux et leurs droits sont protégés par la loi.

Malgré les caractéristiques propres à chacune, toutes les provinces sont égales.

La diversité, la tolérance, la compassion et l'égalité des chances qu'offre le Canada sont sans pareilles dans le monde.

Les peuples autochtones avec leurs cultures, le dynamisme des langues française et anglaise et le caractère multiculturel d'une population issue de toutes les régions du monde sont des éléments dont est constituée la diversité du Canada.

Dans ce régime fédéral, où le respect pour la diversité et l'égalité est un fondement de l'unité, le caractère unique de la société québécoise, constitué notamment de sa majorité francophone, de sa culture et de sa tradition de droit civil, est fondamental pour le bien-être du Canada. Par conséquent, l'assemblée législative et le gouvernement du Québec ont le rôle de protéger le caractère unique de la société québécoise au sein du Canada et d'en favoriser l'épanouissement.

Si une future modification constitutionnelle devait attribuer des pouvoirs à une province, il faudrait que ces mêmes pouvoirs soient accessibles à toutes les provinces.

Le Canada est un régime fédéral dans le cadre duquel les gouvernements fédéral, provinciaux et territoriaux travaillent de concert, tout en respectant leurs compétences respectives. Les Canadiens et Canadiennes souhaitent que les rapports entre leurs gouvernements soient marqués par la coopération et la souplesse pour faire en sorte que la fédération fonctionne efficacement. La population canadienne désire que ses gouvernements oeuvrent de concert, tout particulièrement en matière de prestation des programmes sociaux. Les provinces et les territoires réaffirment leur volonté de collaborer avec le gouvernement du Canada afin de mieux répondre aux besoins des Canadiens et Canadiennes.

A debate arising, after some time, with unanimous consent, at 9:05 p.m., the House recessed until 9:25 p.m. at which time the members were called in for the vote.

The question, having been put on the motion, it was carried on the following division:

Jour de l'opposition

With unanimous consent, on behalf of Mr. McGuinty, Mrs. McLeod moved,

Avec le consentement unanime, au nom de M. McGuinty, M^{me} McLeod propose,

Whereas tuition deregulation will cause tuition fees to soar and debt loads to sky-rocket; and

Whereas Mike Harris has not just raised tuition fees, he has also forced students to take on more and larger loans and has told families they will have to contribute more; and

Whereas the Mike Harris cuts to colleges and universities are the deepest of any jurisdiction in North America over the last two years; and

Whereas Mike Harris has prevented students from earning their own way by cutting back on the amount of money they can earn in a year and by cutting back on the amount of earnings they can make through summer jobs programs; and

Whereas Mike Harris student debt load levels are already too high; and

Whereas students and their families are already experiencing "sticker shock" at the high cost of these programs; and

Whereas no student in Ontario should be denied the opportunity to get a degree or diploma;

Resolved that the government listen to the students, professors and financial institutions who say that debt levels are already unmanageable; and

Resolved that the government adopt the Dalton McGuinty commitment to freeze tuition fees and halt opportunity-killing tuition deregulation; and

Resolved that the government stop forcing students into greater debt to make up for the Harris cuts to universities and colleges in Ontario.

TUESDAY, JUNE 2, 1998THIRTY-FIRST DAY*MARDI 21 JUIN 1998*TRENTE ET UNIÈME JOUR*PRAYERS*1:30 P.M.*PRIÈRES*13 H 30

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg to inform the House I have today laid upon the Table the Annual Report of the Ombudsman for the period April 1, 1997 to March 31, 1998 (No. 35) (Tabled June 2, 1998).

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

Yesterday, the member for Scarborough-Agincourt raised a point of privilege relating to questions asked by him and by the member for Lambton, during oral questions on May 27 and 28, of the Minister of Natural Resources relating to Ipperwash Provincial Park.

The member for Scarborough-Agincourt alleged, in effect, that the member for Lambton and the Minister of Natural Resources combined in the design of a question on the subject of Ipperwash, and the response to it, in a way that would lead listeners to the view that he had misled the House on the previous day or, at the very least, that the essence of his question was based upon inaccurate information and that this incompleteness had the effect of portraying a misleading picture, whether deliberate or not. By planning this "attack", as the member termed it, and by refusing to respond to his questions, the member for Scarborough-Agincourt asserted that he was being obstructed in his ability to perform his parliamentary duties and therefore his privileges had been breached.

Having been in the chair during these events, I am fully aware of what transpired that causes the member for Scarborough-Agincourt to raise his point.

With respect to his concern that the Minister of Natural Resources has declined to answer his questions during question period, but did answer the questions of the member for Lambton, I say that complaints of this type have been commonly raised. The Speaker, however, possesses no authority to compel Ministers to answer questions; indeed, the Standing Orders explicitly allow ministers the discretion to decline to answer questions altogether. Therefore, the member's grievance on this issue enjoys no recourse.

On the issue of the competing views that exist concerning the underlying veracity of the comments of either the member for Scarborough-Agincourt, the member for Lambton or the Minister of Natural Resources, again the Speaker possesses no ability to address the matter. As the presiding officer, I must assume that all members are honourable members, that all members speak truthfully in this House and indeed I am bound to call to order, and sanction if necessary, any member who accuses another member otherwise. I believe that circumstances such as the member for Scarborough-Agincourt has brought forward fall into the category of reasonable people having to agree to disagree, and otherwise drawing their own private conclusions beyond that. In the absence of a clearly unparliamentary statement, it is beyond my jurisdiction to select one member's version of accuracy over that of another member. In my role as Speaker, I must assume both views are accurate, each honestly arrived at through different or opposite analysis of the information at hand, each honestly held and each equally valid.

As is often the case when heated and controversial issues are debated in this House, the form of that debate and the conduct of members may not always cast this legislature in the noblest light; all of this is in the nature, the culture, of this place, and certainly does not constitute a breach of members' privileges.

I cannot find that any of the issues complained of by the member for Scarborough-Agincourt impeded his ability to perform his parliamentary duties. I therefore find that a prima facie case of privilege has not been made out.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Thursday, May 14, the member for Etobicoke-Rexdale introduced a bill entitled "An Act to amend the Education Act and the Income Tax Act to provide a tax credit for private sector investment in classroom technology".

After the bill received first reading, the member for Algoma rose on a point of order to draw the attention of the House to his contention that the title of the bill strongly pointed in the direction of the bill being out of order for the reason, in the member's words, "that this is an attempt by a member who is not part of the government bench to introduce a tax measure, that this is a bill that would provide for a tax credit, which only a member of the treasury bench can introduce in the House...".

Because the bill had only just then been introduced and given first reading, no member of the House, except for the sponsor, had seen the bill, including myself. I committed to review the bill once it had been printed and distributed, which I have done, and to report back on this issue.

Standing Order 56 states "any bill, resolution, motion or address, the passage of which would impose a tax or specifically direct the allocation of public funds, shall not be passed by the House unless recommended by a message from the Lieutenant Governor, and shall be proposed only by a minister of the Crown."

With respect to the orderliness of Bill 24, it does not impose a tax; indeed, it does the opposite in alleviating a tax. It does not specifically allocate public funds; its passage may cause the government to forego a certain amount of revenue, and thereby impose a burden on the Consolidated Revenue Fund, but this equates only indirectly to an expenditure. There are ample precedents fully supporting the permissibility of such a proposal.

I therefore find the bill to be in order.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

Opposition Day

Mr. Kormos moved,

Whereas there have been serious questions raised about impropriety and potential conflict of interest in the process to select the builder and operator of the Niagara Falls permanent casino, and that these questions remain the subject of widespread concern in Ontario; and

Whereas there have been revelations that the winning consortium includes a number of people who have strong ties to the provincial Conservative party, having worked as lobbyists around the establishment of privately-owned and operated casinos, campaigners, fund-raisers and party officials; and

Whereas it has been revealed that Michael French was hired by a Toronto business group that was a partner in the winning bid for the Niagara casino, while at the same time he was retained by the Ontario government to run competitions to select private operators for the Niagara Falls casino and the 44 permanent charity casinos;

Be it therefore resolved that this House believes an independent inquiry under the Public Inquiries Act into the selection process for the construction and operation of the Niagara Falls casino/gateway project, including all government discussions and decisions leading up to the selection of Falls Management as the winning bid, will be essential for bringing out the full truth surrounding this case of apparent impropriety on the part of the Government of this province.

M. Newman propose,

Deuxième lecture du projet de loi 21, Loi visant à promouvoir la sécurité dans les écoles de l'Ontario et à créer des milieux d'apprentissage favorables pour les élèves ontariens en apportant des modifications à la Loi sur l'éducation.

À 11 h, la suite du débat est réservée jusqu'à midi.

Ensuite, M. Gravelle propose,

Whereas in the past fiscal year (1997/98) virtually none of this committed funding was spent due to the government's insistence on funding only a minimum of physicians per community rather than a sustainable physician complement necessary to retain and recruit needed physicians; and

Whereas the Minister of Health has stated in the Legislature that she is looking for proposals to utilize these funds; and

Whereas a group of 38 physicians in Northwestern Ontario eligible for Globally Funded Group Practice Agreements (GFGPAs) have worked together with PAIRO (Professional Association of Interns and Residents of Ontario), NOACC (Northwestern Ontario Associated Chambers of Commerce) and the OMA to put such a proposal forward to the Minister of Health that identifies realistic and practical improvements to the present GFGPA model which, if implemented, would result in sustainable physician recruitment and retention in Northwestern Ontario communities; and

Whereas the proposal, if accepted by the Minister of Health, could serve as a model for many Northern and rural medically underserved communities in the Province;

Be it resolved, that in the opinion of this House, the Minister of Health must fulfill her commitment to provide the positive incentives necessary to attract needed physicians to Northern and rural communities; the Minister of Health should negotiate a change in the alternate payment plan agreement so that the committed group practice funding would be based on a sustainable physician complement (a critical mass) in underserved communities (rather than the present underserved minimum designations); and the Minister of Health should allow funding for physician services to recognize the special and unique workload and responsibilities of physicians practising in Northern and rural underserved areas.

The question having been put on the motion for Second Reading of Bill 21, An Act to promote Safety in Ontario Schools and create positive Learning Environments for Ontario Students by making amendments to the Education Act, it was carried on the following division:-

La motion portant deuxième lecture du projet de loi 21, Loi visant à promouvoir la sécurité dans les écoles de l'Ontario et à créer des milieux d'apprentissage favorables pour les élèves ontariens en apportant des modifications à la Loi sur l'éducation, mise aux voix, est adoptée par le vote suivant:-

TUESDAY, JUNE 16, 1998

FORTY-SIXTH DAYPRAYERS

1:30 P.M.

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg to inform the House I have today laid upon the Table the Annual Report of the Information & Privacy Commissioner for the year 1997 (No. 68) (Tabled June 16, 1998), the Twenty-Third Annual Report of the Commission on Election Finances for the year 1997 (No. 67) (Tabled June 16, 1998) and a Special Report of the Provincial Auditor on the year 2000 (No. 69) (Tabled June 16, 1998).

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Monday, June 8, the Member for Windsor-Walkerville (Mr. Duncan) raised a point of privilege with respect to an advertisement for a request for proposals that appeared in the Globe and Mail newspaper on that same day. The Ontario Lottery Corporation, seeking a supplier for mechanical spinning reel slot machines, placed the ad. The Member argued that the ad presumed the passage of Bill 15, which amends the definition of "video lottery" and "video lottery terminal" in the Ontario Lottery Corporation Act.

I have reviewed the advertisement in question as well as the relevant sections of Bill 15 and the Ontario Lottery Corporation Act.

I am not prepared to go into what legal authority the Ontario Lottery Corporation needs in order to purchase the slot machines in question, except to say that it is not at all clear to me that the passage of Bill 15 is necessary to allow such a purchase. Nevertheless, even if we agree that the passage of Bill 15 is required to allow the Ontario Lottery Corporation to purchase the slot machines, in my view, there is nothing to prevent the Corporation from preparing itself for the possibility that the bill will pass. As Speaker Edighoffer stated in a ruling on a similar matter on December 20, 1989:

"It is perfectly valid for the Public Service to proceed with plans based on a bill that is already in the system in order to be able to act swiftly, once that bill becomes law."

In my opinion the Ontario Lottery Corporation is doing nothing more than that. There is nothing to suggest that it has purchased slot machines; it is simply seeking proposals from potential suppliers. I find therefore that the member does not have a prima facie point of privilege.

FIFTY-SIXTH DAY

MERCREDI 24 JUIN 1998

CINQUANTE-SIXIÈME JOUR

PRAYERS

1:30 P.M.

PRIÈRES

13 H 30

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

I beg the indulgence of the House to address a state of affairs which has become very concerning to all of the Presiding Officers, and in fact to many other members.

There can be no doubt that the fundamental prerequisite for this Assembly to function is that all members conduct themselves in a way that demonstrates a basic acceptance of the dignity of this Chamber. We all are honoured to have been chosen by our electors to represent them in this, their House. To conduct ourselves, as the public's temporary delegates, in a way that brings disrepute to the proceedings of the Assembly is disrespectful to them, and to the traditions of parliament.

Aside from matters of general order and decorum, perhaps the most important manifestation of this respect is the quality of our response to the Chair. Your Speaker, chosen by you, is charged with the responsibility of upholding the many noble traditions of our parliamentary democracy. When the Chair is treated with disrespect, then disrespect falls upon each of us, and the rightful expectations of the public can only be undermined. Challenges to the Chair are challenges upon the rules and traditions that we must collectively agree to be governed by.

I can understand that in some situations emotions may run high, Members may be inclined to disagree with rulings and may do or say things that on second thought may be unwise. I would think that all honourable members would have an interest in maintaining the respect due to this place and later apologize, as the Chief Government Whip has done today.

Members must realize that this state of affairs puts the presiding officers in an untenable position, and makes impossible their duty to enforce the observance of all rules for preserving order in our proceedings.

To paraphrase Erskine May, the Speaker, and in turn the presiding officers, are the representatives of the House itself in its powers, proceedings and dignity.

Such attacks on the Chair as we have seen recently will not in future be tolerated. Members will be called upon in these situations to apologize immediately. Refusal may result in naming.

The responsibility for preserving the dignity and respect that this House deserves falls upon us all. I appeal to the House to honour this call to heed and uphold the fine traditions of this place.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

ORDRE DU JOUR

Opposition Day

Jour de l'opposition

With unanimous consent, on behalf of Mr. McGuinty, Mrs. McLeod moved,

Avec le consentement unanime, au nom de M. McGuinty, M^{me} McLeod propose,

Whereas the Mike Harris government has successfully and deliberately created a crisis in our children's education;

Whereas the Mike Harris government stated clearly at the beginning of its mandate plans to "create a useful crisis" in education;

Whereas Mike Harris and Dave Johnson have repeatedly poured fuel on the education crisis with expensive ads and calculated attacks on our teachers, trustees and students;

Whereas Mike Harris' Bill 160 and the education funding formula has only added to that crisis;

Whereas Bill 160 amounts to a power grab by the Mike Harris government, removing local input from our children's education;

Whereas Bill 160 imposes conditions on local boards, but fails to provide adequate funding allowing many local boards to meet those conditions;

Whereas Bill 160 causes all school board and teacher contracts to expire at the same time;

Whereas the Mike Harris government is forcing schools to close across the province;

Whereas the Mike Harris government has taken at least $1 billion out of our classrooms;

Whereas for these reasons and others, this government's education policy has been a failure;

Whereas we value our children's education and the dedication of Ontario's teachers;

The Ontario Liberals call on the government to admit that Bill 160 does nothing but create a crisis in education across the province;

That the government immediately initiates an independent, objective review of their funding formula to ensure that each board is given the resources needed to provide quality education to our students.

Second Reading of Bill 50, An Act to promote patients' rights and to increase accountability in Ontario's health care system.

Mr. Wood (London South) then moved,

JEUDI 15 OCTOBRE 1998

SOIXANTE-SEIZIÈME JOUR

PRIÈRES

10 H

M^{me} Boyd propose,

Deuxième lecture du projet de loi 50, Loi visant à promouvoir les droits des patients et à accroître l'obligation de rendre des comptes dans le système de soins de santé de l'Ontario.

À 11 h, la suite du débat est réservée jusqu'à midi.

Ensuite, M. Wood (London-Sud) propose,

That, in the opinion of this House, since Hospice Palliative Care is care which aims to relieve suffering and improve the quality of life of people who are living with or dying from advanced illness, or those who are bereaved, the Government of Ontario should appoint a Task Force, representative of the Public, recognized Hospice Palliative Care Experts, Palliative Care Supporters and Providers, both Paid and Volunteer, from throughout Ontario, to recommend the elements necessary to fully implement an effective Hospice Palliative Care "Bill of Rights". These Rights would ensure the best possible comfort, protection and support will be available and accessible to all Ontarians and their families in time of need. The Task Force would provide interim reports to the government and the public, and continue in existence to review the implementation of its recommendations.

This Task Force should consider but not be limited to the following issues:

1. The provision of Hospice Palliative Care, that recognizes the need of all people for personal respect, control and dignity. A modern fully developed Hospice Palliative Care system enables most people to live in their own homes;
2. The effective provision of the best medical treatments for pain control and the best symptom management practices for other physical suffering, using drug, and non-drug therapies;
3. Ensuring the development of proper medical treatments for all patients of all backgrounds, social, cultural, or religious and of any age or illness. The special problems of children and of individuals suffering illnesses of the nervous system, who face much shorter life expectancies, should be considered. Cancer Care Ontario's phased-in Supportive Care Model should be examined for potential applications to the development of Hospice Palliative Care;
4. The Interdisciplinary Team Care of Hospice Palliative Care must be adapted to work with Primary Care Providers. Standards for Hospice Home Care, Dedicated Hospices, Nursing Homes, Supportive Housing and Hospitals, should be integrated with a compensation structure for Hospice Palliative Care that recognizes its interdisciplinary character;
5. Medical Specialties in Hospice Palliative Care should be recognized in all medical fields. The need to provide a high standard of basic and specialized Instruction in Palliative Care, Pain Management, Symptom Control, Emotional and Spiritual needs and Team Methods in every Profession. An effective Information System must update our Medical Teams with the very latest developments in Hospice Palliative Care, Pain Control and Symptom Management;
6. Research programs to explore new knowledge, in the areas of greatest value to Canadians receiving Hospice Palliative Care, should be a continuing feature of Ontario's Medical Care System;
7. The best possible programs to support, train and encourage Volunteer Care Providers and their organizations should be identified and made an integral part of the Hospice Palliative Care System. Volunteers providing Hospice Palliative Care are the ultimate guarantee of Community involvement, as well as Comfort and Concern for the needs of individual people and their families and their Bereavement. Existing Programs, Standards, Organizations and Proposals ready for pilot-projects or expansion should be encouraged. Programs that are individual and innovative, in their own way, can co-operate providing Patient-Centred Care for Ontarians;
8. Revising, as required, medical, administrative and legal procedures to ensure effective safeguards for the rights of all those under care, but especially those who cannot, or can no longer, decide issues of medical care for themselves;
9. How to meet the needs of most Ontarians, in these Care Programs, by finding the very best methods to gain the full confidence, and participation in Patient Care, of Leaders from all Religious, Cultural and Spiritual Communities;

10. The need for emotional, psychological, social and spiritual support appropriate to the needs of the patient and their family. The right to be treated as a person, and receive proper medical, emotional and spiritual treatment for times of depression and suffering. The need for family members to be consulted, treated with respect and kept informed;
11. Setting reasonable limits on charges for Care, to a patient's life savings, so loved ones need not be left destitute;
12. Most Care in Ontario is provided by spouses or family, to loved ones. A priority must be to consult with these Care Providers to find ways to encourage and support them, as they meet family responsibilities, with love and loyalty.

The question having been put on the motion for Second Reading of Bill 50, An Act to promote patients' rights and to increase accountability in Ontario's health care system, it was declared carried and the Bill was accordingly read the second time and Ordered referred to Committee of the Whole House.

The question having been put on Mr. Wood's (London South) Resolution Number 20, it was declared carried.

La motion portant deuxième lecture du projet de loi 50, Loi visant à promouvoir les droits des patients et à accroître l'obligation de rendre des comptes dans le système de soins de santé de l'Ontario, mise aux voix, est déclarée adoptée et le projet de loi est en conséquence lu une deuxième fois et déferé au Comité plénier.

La motion, mise aux voix, sur la résolution numéro 20 de M. Wood (London-Sud) est déclarée adoptée.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

Opposition Day

Mr. Hampton moved,

Whereas the tax scheme instituted by the Harris Conservatives provides real benefits only to individuals with the highest incomes, while forcing cuts to health care, schools, environmental protection and other vital services; and

Whereas 25 percent of the money from the tax scheme goes to the top 6 percent of individual taxpayers in Ontario; and

Whereas rebuilding public services will only be possible when this tax scheme for the wealthy is repealed;

Therefore this House urges an immediate reinvestment in health care, education, environmental protection and other services in our communities, financed by reversing the tax scheme for the top 6 percent of individual taxpayers.

Mr. Christopherson moved,

M. Christopherson propose,

That, in the opinion of this House, the Harris government be urged to acknowledge the downloading of services and expenditures to Hamilton and Hamilton-Wentworth is not revenue neutral and has in fact created an unacceptable crisis in local property tax increases; and

That, in the opinion of this House, the Harris government be urged to acknowledge that:

- . Mike Harris and the Conservative Party of Ontario promised the citizens of Ontario fair and equitable taxation in the Common Sense Revolution, and property tax is an unfair and regressive form of taxation.
- . Mike Harris promised – in bold letters – on page five of the Common Sense Revolution “We will work closely with municipalities to ensure that any actions we take will not result in increases to local property taxes”.
- . Mike Harris also promised that the province’s exchange of services and expenditures would be revenue neutral.
- . The Harris downloading has short-changed the citizens of Hamilton and Hamilton-Wentworth by $36.3 million per year forcing dramatic property tax hikes.
- . The Harris government’s own figures confirm this $36.3 million shortfall.
- . The eight year phase in of the Harris government’s Business Education Tax has discriminated against Hamilton and Hamilton-Wentworth by putting an additional $17 million dollar burden onto local taxpayers.
- . The Province reneged on its original commitment to a three year Small Business Rebate Program, and will now only fund the program for one year.
- . Many of our citizens may lose their homes, businesses and jobs as a result of the drastic property tax increases foisted on local taxpayers by the Mike Harris government.
- . Any future downturn in the economy could potentially bankrupt the municipalities who must now bear the brunt of increased social service costs and responsibilities.
- . City and regional councillors are being unfairly blamed and forced to explain these huge Harris tax hikes; and

That, in the opinion of this House, the Harris government be urged to immediately pay back to Hamilton and Hamilton-Wentworth the $36.3 million they have shortchanged our community; and

ORDERS OF THE DAY

ORDRE DU JOUR

Opposition Day

Jour de l'opposition

Mr. McGuinty moved,

M. McGuinty propose,

Whereas the Harris Government has lowered the minimum age for hunting with a firearm to just 12 years of age; and

Whereas many police and victims groups have strongly stated that putting guns in the hands of children as young as 12 threatens public safety; and

Whereas there has already been a fatal shooting involving a thirteen year old child since the Harris government lowered the age; and

Whereas the Ontario Liberal Party believes that it is more important to put books, not guns in the hands of children; and

Whereas the Harris government has also ignored police and victims groups by fighting universal gun registration; and

Whereas universal gun registration is supported by:

- Ontario Association of Chiefs of Police
- CAVEAT
- Peel Regional Police Association
- Hamilton-Wentworth Regional Police
- Ontario Coalition of Senior Citizens Organizations
- Halton Health Services
- Niagara Health Services Department
- Interval House (Ottawa)
- Municipal Councils of: Etobicoke, Gloucester, Goderich, Guelph, Nepean, Lindsay, Kitchener, Peterborough, Waterloo, Brampton, Oshawa, London; and

Whereas a recent Angus Reid Poll showed that the following people supported universal gun registration:

- 86 % of Ontarians
- 54% of Ontario gun owners
- 88% of the people in Toronto
- 85% of the people in Southern Ontario
- 88% of the people in Eastern Ontario
- 76% of the people in Northern Ontario

- 88% of people living in Urban Ontario
- 75% of people living in Rural Ontario
- 89% of non-gun owners
- 91% of female voters
- 79% of male voters

Be it resolved that the Harris Government acknowledge the danger of allowing children to have access to guns by reversing its decision to put guns in the hands of children; and

Be it further resolved that the Harris Government end its fight against universal gun registration by working with police and the federal government to fully implement the federal gun registration law in the Province of Ontario.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1998NINETIETH DAY

Mr. Duncan moved,

That, in the opinion of this House, since persons with disabilities in Ontario face systemic barriers in access to employment, services, goods, facilities and accommodation; and since all Ontarians will benefit from the removal of these barriers, thereby enabling these persons to enjoy equal opportunity and full participation in the life of the province; and since Premier Harris promised in writing during the last election in the letter from Michael D. Harris to the Ontarians with Disabilities Act Committee dated May 24, 1995 to:

- a) enact an Ontarians with Disabilities Act within its current term of office; and

QUATRE-VINGT-NEUVIÈME JOUR18 H 30*ORDRE DU JOUR

Il s'élève un débat sur la motion portant troisième lecture du projet de loi 35, Loi visant à créer des emplois et à protéger les consommateurs en favorisant le bas prix de l'énergie au moyen de la concurrence, protégeant l'environnement, traitant de pensions et apportant des modifications connexes à certaines lois.

Le Vice-Président donne des directives pour convoquer les députés et la sonnerie d'appel est retentit à cette fin.

J'ai reçu une requête du Whip en chef du gouvernement, conformément à l'article 28(h) du Règlement, que le vote sur la motion portant troisième lecture du projet de loi 36, Loi modifiant la Loi électorale et la Loi sur le financement des élections et apportant des modifications connexes à d'autres lois, soit différé jusqu'au 29 octobre 1998.

En conséquence, le vote est différé.

À 21 h 26, la chambre a ensuite ajourné ses travaux.

JEUDI 29 OCTOBRE 1998QUATRE-VINGT-DIXIÈME JOUR

M. Duncan propose,

- b) work together with members of the Ontarians with Disabilities Act Committee, amongst others, in the development of such legislation.

And since this House unanimously passed a resolution on May 16, 1996 calling on the Ontario Government to keep this promise, therefore the Ontarians with Disabilities Act should embody the following principles:

1. The purpose of the Ontarians with Disabilities Act should be to effectively ensure to persons with disabilities in Ontario the equal opportunity to fully and meaningfully participate in all aspects of life in Ontario based on their individual merit, by removing existing barriers confronting them and by preventing the creation of new barriers. It should seek to achieve a barrier-free Ontario for persons with disabilities within as short a time as is reasonably possible, with implementation to begin immediately upon proclamation;
2. The Ontarians with Disabilities Act's requirements should supersede all other legislation, regulations or policies which either conflict with it, or which provide lesser protections and entitlements to persons with disabilities;
3. The Ontarians with Disabilities Act should require government entities, public premises, companies and organizations to be made fully accessible to all persons with disabilities through the removal of existing barriers and the prevention of the creation of new barriers, within strict time frames to be prescribed in the legislation or regulations;
4. The Ontarians with Disabilities Act should require the providers of goods, services and facilities to the public to ensure that their goods, services and facilities are fully usable by persons with disabilities, and that they are designed to reasonably accommodate the needs of persons with disabilities. Included among services, goods and facilities, among other things, are all aspects of education including primary, secondary and post-secondary education, as well as providers of transportation and communication facilities (to the extent that Ontario can regulate these) and public sector providers of information to the public e.g. governments. Providers of these goods, services and facilities should be required to devise and implement detailed plans to remove existing barriers within legislated timetables;
5. The Ontarians with Disabilities Act should require public and private sector employers to take proactive steps to achieve barrier-free workplaces within prescribed time limits. Among other things, employers should be required to identify existing barriers which impede persons with disabilities, and then to devise and implement plans for the removal of these barriers, and for the prevention of new barriers in the workplace;
6. The Ontarians with Disabilities Act should provide for a prompt and effective process for enforcement. It should not simply incorporate the existing procedures for filing discrimination complaints with the Ontario Human Rights Commission, as these are too slow and cumbersome, and yield inadequate remedies;
7. As part of its enforcement process, the Ontarians with Disabilities Act should provide for a process of regulation-making to define with clarity the steps required for compliance with the Ontarians with Disabilities Act. It should be open for such regulations to be made on an industry-by-industry basis, or sector-by-sector basis. This should include a requirement that input be obtained from affected groups such as persons with disabilities before such regulations are enacted. It should also provide persons with disabilities with the opportunity to apply to have regulations made in specific sectors of the economy;
8. The Ontarians with Disabilities Act should also mandate the Government of Ontario to provide education and other information resources to companies, individuals and groups who seek to comply with the requirements of the Ontarians with Disabilities Act;

The Ontarians with Disabilities Act should also require the Government of Ontario to take affirmative steps to promote the development and distribution in Ontario of new adaptive technologies and services for persons with disabilities;

10. The Ontarians with Disabilities Act should require the provincial and municipal governments to make it a strict condition of funding any program, or of purchasing any services, goods or facilities, that they be designed to be fully accessible to and usable by persons with disabilities. Any grant or contract which does not so provide is void and unenforceable by the grant-recipient or contractor with the government in question;
11. The Ontarians with Disabilities Act must be more than mere window dressing. It should contribute meaningfully to the improvement of the position of persons with disabilities in Ontario. It must have real force and effect.

A debate arising, at 11:00 a.m., further proceedings were reserved until 12:00 noon.

Mr. Kwinter then moved,

ORDRE DU JOUR

Opposition Day

Jour de l'opposition

Mrs. McLeod moved,

M^{me} McLeod propose,

That, in the opinion of this House, since Dalton McGuinty has been talking to children like Carlos who was afraid that his little sister was going to lose her daycare, and Amanda who is making bracelets to try to save her school, and Anne who asked why Mike Harris is being so mean and closing her school; and

Since Mike Harris has refused to consult with parents on the future of their neighbourhood school; and

Since Mike Harris is pitting parent against parent and community against community in the fight to save local schools; and

Since Mike Harris short-changed school boards by over $150 million making it impossible to keep schools open; and

Since Mike Harris is now blaming school boards and using them as scapegoats for his government's disastrous and chaotic funding formula; and

Since Mike Harris promised in 1995 not to cut classroom spending but has already cut at least $1 billion from our schools and is now closing many classrooms completely;

Therefore, the Mike Harris government should stop closing hundreds of neighbourhood and community schools across Ontario.

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

Le Président s'adresse à l'Assemblée comme suit:-

On Tuesday, November 24, the member for Fort William (Mrs. McLeod) raised a point of order with respect to the Education Quality Improvement Act. She referred to Section 137 of the Standing Orders which sets out the duties of Legislative Counsel. She sought advice on whether or not under this Standing Order, Legislative Counsel had a role to play in light of a recent court decision.

Let me begin by saying that the Act to which the member refers has already been passed by this House. It has received Royal Assent. It is the law. It is therefore beyond the authority of the Speaker.

With respect to the role of Legislative Counsel under Standing Order 137(c), any report they make to the Executive Council would be made while a Bill is still before the House or earlier. Whether or not that was done in this case is not something that I would want or would have knowledge of.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTEENTH DAY

PRAYERS

PRIÈRES

Mr. Kells moved,

M. Kells propose,

Second Reading of Bill 77, An Act to endorse the proposed bid of the City of Toronto to host the XXIX Summer Olympic Games.

A debate arising, at 11:00 a.m., further proceedings were reserved until 12:00 noon.

Mr. Rollins then moved,

That, in the opinion of this House, since the gasoline pricing practices of large supplier/retailers continues to be a problem which threatens consumers with unreasonably high prices, and price increases timed to coincide with long weekends, and which undermines the important role played by independent gasoline retailers in Ontario; and

Since gasoline pricing is an issue of common interest to all Canadian consumers; and

Since ensuring fair competition in the marketplace is the responsibility of the federal government under the Competition Act; and

Since the federal Report of the Liberal Committee on Gasoline Pricing in Canada, the McTeague Report, tabled in June, 1998, concluded that the current Canadian wholesale and retail gasoline market is not truly competitive and that competition has steadily lessened in recent years; and

Since the McTeague Report recommended that the Competition Act be amended to provide better protection for consumers, and that the federal government immediately act to replace the criminal burden of proof model currently used in sections dealing with predatory pricing and price discrimination; and

Since the need for immediate action on the part of the federal government to restore competition to the gasoline marketplace has been expressed by Ontario consumers to the Consumer Watchdog Commission of MPPs, appointed in Spring 1998 by the Honourable David H. Tsubouchi, Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations; and

Since the federal Competition Bureau is of the opinion that no marketplace problems exist in the gasoline industry which violate the Competition Act as currently drafted and a Private Member's Bill C-235 sets out amendments to the Competition Act to address certain of these issues;

Therefore the Government of Ontario should call upon the federal government to address this problem of national dimensions by amending the Competition Act to address pricing practices within the gasoline industry and appoint a special investigator to enforce the revised Act to ensure that Canadian consumers benefit from competitive and transparent gasoline prices across this country.

The question having been put on the motion for Second Reading of Bill 77, An Act to endorse the proposed bid of the City of Toronto to host the XXIX Summer Olympic Games, it was declared carried and the Bill was accordingly read the second time and, with unanimous consent, Ordered for Third Reading.

The question having been put on Mr. Rollins' Resolution Number 33, it was declared carried.

Deuxième lecture du projet de loi 77, Loi visant à appuyer la candidature que se propose de présenter la cité de Toronto pour accueillir les XXIX^e Jeux olympiques d'été.

À 11 h, la suite du débat est réservée jusqu'à midi.

Ensuite, M. Rollins propose,

La motion portant deuxième lecture du projet de loi 77, Loi visant à appuyer la candidature que se propose de présenter la cité de Toronto pour accueillir les XXIX^e Jeux olympiques d'été, mise aux voix, est déclarée adoptée et le projet de loi est en conséquence lu une deuxième fois et, avec le consentement unanime, ordonné pour la troisième lecture.

La motion, mise aux voix, sur la résolution numéro 33 de M. Rollins est déclarée adoptée.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

Earlier today, the member for Algoma (Mr. Wildman), raised a point of order with respect to Bill Pr22, An Act respecting the City of Kingston.

I have carefully reviewed the Bill along with the procedural principles which govern private bills. Having done so, I find that this Bill is not unlike those that we have dealt with previously. It seeks to exempt a certain group from public policy. It does not apply this exemption to an unknown general public across the province.

Therefore, my opinion, after a relatively short period of contemplation, is that this Bill is in order. However, it may be that the Standing Committee on Regulations and Private Bills after considering this Bill may find that the subject matter is unfit for private legislation. In this case, the option is still open to the Committee to make that decision.

The House then adjourned at 6:13 p.m.

À 18 h 13, la chambre a ensuite ajourné ses travaux.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

DÉPÔT DES PROJETS DE LOI

The following Bills were introduced and read the first time:-

Les projets de loi suivants sont présentés et lus une première fois:-

Bill 102, An Act to amend the Highway Traffic Act to permit pilot projects relating to red light cameras. Hon. T. Clement.

Projet de loi 102, Loi modifiant le Code de la route pour permettre les projets pilotes ayant trait aux dispositifs photographiques reliés aux feux rouges. L'hon. T. Clement.

Bill 103, An Act to provide for an Oath of Allegiance for the Members of the Legislative Assembly. Mr. D. Agostino.

Projet de loi 103, Loi prévoyant un serment d'allégeance pour les députés à l'Assemblée législative. Mr. D. Agostino.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

Yesterday, the Member for Grey-Owen Sound rose on a point of order concerning a petition he had presented, which was returned to him by the Table on the basis that it was found to be out of order.

The Member requested that the Speaker review the petition he had presented since, in his view, it should have been found to be in order.

I have now reviewed the petition and wish to report to the Member and to the House on this matter.

Standing Order 38 sets out 5 criteria that a petition must meet to be found in order. The petition presented by the Member for Grey-Owen Sound fails to meet at least 2 of these criteria.

First, Standing Order 38 (c)(iv) requires each petition to "have its request appear at the top of each sheet, if it consists of more than one sheet of signatures."

The petition in question consists of 2 sheets, but one sheet contains the text of the petition, without any signatures, and the other contains only signatures, without any request to parliament, contrary to the Standing Orders.

Secondly, Standing Order 38 (c)(ii) requires a petition to "contain a clear, proper and respectful request that the House take some action within its authority."

The petition in question does not make any request of the Assembly. Rather, on the one sheet that contains the purported text of the petition, only a statement of certain principles is enumerated, to which the purported signatories to the petition, found on the second page, purportedly adhere. However, the Assembly is not asked to take any action within its authority.

The key principle that this petition offends is that all petitioners should know precisely what it is they are petitioning parliament for. With the request to parliament on a separate page from the signatures, there is no way to know that the signatories saw and understood the nature of the petition. When the text of the petition is at the top of each page of signatures, it is a certainty that each person signing the petition will have seen and agreed with it.

The petition also contains certain alterations. Again, this gives rise to the principle that petitioners must know what they are signing; when a petition contains alterations, it cannot be known if the petitioners signed it before or after the alterations were made, and whether those alterations might have affected their decision to support and sign the petition.

I find, then, that the petition is out of order.

I would point out that it is the responsibility of each member presenting a petition to ensure that it complies with the Standing Orders. I encourage Members who have a question about the orderliness of a petition to solicit the advice of the Table so that the situation faced by the Member for Grey-Owen Sound could be avoided.

The deferred vote on the motion for Third Reading of Bill 55, An Act respecting apprenticeship and certification was carried on the following division:-

With unanimous consent, on behalf of Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Gerretsen moved,

Avec le consentement unanime, au nom de M. Kennedy, M. Gerretsen propose,

That, in the opinion of this House, since individuals, organisations, and corporations who provide health care have an unique role in shaping both the public's understanding of, and policy within, the health care system; and

Since in an era of rapid change it is crucial there be sufficient information to ensure the public is protected at all time; and

Since these health care providers are presently restricted by a variety of direct and indirect strictures and pressures from publicly raising issues in Ontario's interest that are discerned in the course of their duties; and

Since the resulting lack of openness in the health care system results in mistakes that could be readily prevented;

Therefore, the government should take immediate legislative action to guarantee these care providers who in good faith apprehend the safety, well-being or dignity of present or future patients is or will be compromised and be allowed to speak responsibly within the public forum - without any reprisal to health care employees by their employer or to health care employers by the government.

ORDERS OF THE DAY

Debate was resumed on the motion for Second Reading of Bill 73, An Act to amend the Child and Family Services Act in order to better promote the best interests, protection and well being of children.

After some time, the motion was declared carried and the Bill was accordingly read the second time and Ordered referred to the Standing Committee on Resources Development.

The Speaker delivered the following ruling:-

On Tuesday, December 8, 1998 the member for Algoma (Mr Wildman) raised a point of order with respect to the authority of the Speaker under Standing Order 105(i). Let me begin by defining my power under that Standing Order. I have no ability to direct the Committee to consider a matter - whether it is procedural or administrative. I do have the ability to request that the Committee undertake a review of procedural matters relating to this House or Committees in general. In addition, the Committee may advise me and/or the Board of Internal Economy on matters of administration.

I believe that I as the Speaker do have the authority to request that the Committee consider a matter of administration; indeed, Speakers have done so in the past. However, I think that that authority stops short of making a request that the Standing Committee on the Legislative Assembly review and report on a decision that has already been taken by the Board of Internal Economy. Under the Legislative Assembly Act, the Board is charged with the responsibility for making decisions relating to the operation of the Office of the Assembly. It is not within my power to use the Committee as an appeal body for those decisions.

Finally, I want to say to the members that I believe it would be highly improper for the Speaker to refer a matter to a Committee that would involve an investigation of any Member of this House. That is a referral that can only be made by the House itself.

A debate arose on the motion for Third Reading of Bill 38, An Act to revise the law relating to condominium corporations, to amend the Ontario New Home Warranties Plan Act and to make other related amendments.

3:00 P.M.15 H

This being the first day of the Third Session of the Thirty-sixth Parliament convoked by Proclamation of the Lieutenant Governor for the dispatch of business, and the members of the House having assembled:-

Her Honour the Lieutenant Governor entered the Legislative Chamber and, having taken her seat on the Throne, was pleased to open the Session by reading the following gracious speech:

Mr. Speaker, members of the Legislative Assembly, citizens of this province:

I am pleased to welcome you to the opening of the Third Session of the 36th Parliament of Ontario.

This ceremony is rooted in more than 700 years of history. When Edward I summoned the first representative parliament in 1295, he opened with an address outlining the King's own priorities. Today, we live in a modern democracy where the Sovereign reigns but does not rule and the people's elected government acts in the name of the Crown.

Parliament now opens with a speech prepared by Her Majesty's ministers, setting forth the government's policies and plans.

Thus, the Speech that I read this afternoon represents both our democracy's link to the past and its forward evolution — a symbol of continuity, as well as progress.

We first should pause to honour four Ottawa-Carleton transit workers who, earlier this month, were killed while working to provide for themselves and their families. We remember Brian Guay, Clare Davidson, David Lemay and Harry Schoenmakers.

Since the prorogation of the Second Session, Ontario has lost three distinguished former parliamentarians:

- Margaret Campbell, lawyer and provincial court judge, served as MPP for Toronto's St. George constituency from 1973 to 1981.
- Donald Alexander Paterson, owner and manager of Paterson's Dry Goods and life-long resident of Leamington, represented the people of Essex South for 12 years.
- Charles Joseph Sylvanus Apps, better known as Syl Apps, represented the Kingston area for the same 12-year period, and served as Minister of Correctional Services.

Margaret Campbell was a trailblazer throughout her life. Called to the bar in 1937 at a time when women faced obstacles to a career in law, by 1952 she had established her own law firm.

As Toronto's budget chief, Campbell was credited with modernizing the city's budget process and introducing the widespread use of computers at city hall. In 1973, after serving as family court judge, she was the first woman to be elected as a Liberal member of this Assembly.

In recognition of her pioneering spirit and many achievements, in 1984 the Liberal Party established the Margaret Campbell Fund to support the recruitment and nomination of women seeking election to the Legislature.

Though he left Queen's Park in 1975, Donald Paterson's love of politics and service to his community did not end.

A concerned conservationist, Paterson will also be remembered for planting thousands of trees at the Two Creeks Conservation Area, which he helped to create.

Donald Paterson's final act was the donation of his two corneas for transplant. This noble act on the part of a man who prided himself on his humility serves as a reminder to us all of the importance of organ donation.

A Canadian pole-vault champion, Olympian, and star centre with the Toronto Maple Leafs, Syl Apps left the team at the height of his hockey career to enlist in the Royal Canadian Army and serve during the Second World War.

Returning to the Leafs after the War, Apps also served as Ontario Athletics Commissioner before entering politics.

To honour Syl Apps's love of sport, devotion to duty and years of service to the people of our province, the government will create an office for Community Sport and Recreational Development, managed under the leadership of a provincial coordinator.

Among the coordinator's duties will be the annual presentation of the Syl Apps Awards of Excellence to boys and girls from across Ontario who embody his qualities of athleticism, duty and service.

People throughout Ontario — indeed, across Canada — recently marked the retirement of the building where Syl Apps played many of his best games: Maple Leaf Gardens.

A construction project that brought hope and pride even during the darkest days of the Great Depression, the Gardens played host to events as diverse as political conventions and rock concerts ... and for 68 years was home to Syl's beloved Maple Leafs.

This week also marked the end of another landmark era in Canadian hockey - the Gretzky era. As the greatest player ever, Wayne Gretzky will not only be remembered for his brilliance on the ice, but also as an ambassador for Canada and the game of hockey worldwide.

The memories of our province's rich history that are shared between generations ... and between mothers, fathers and their children, remind us of the special bond we feel toward our parents, grandparents and others who raised us.

With much love and pride, we take a moment to thank those who brought us up ... who cared for us through thick and thin ... and who challenged us to work hard, to do our best and never to give up.

The people of Ontario also value freedom and human rights.

Today, we pray for all the men and women of the Canadian Armed Forces, especially those risking their lives to protect minorities in other countries.

Our thoughts are with all peoples on earth seeking refuge from persecution.

Events half a world away remind us that our province has been shaped by the contributions of men and women from around the globe.

This time of year is important to many different members of the Ontario family, including those of the Jewish faith commemorating Passover, Baha'is recognizing the holy period of Ridvan, Christians celebrating the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, Sikhs and Hindus marking Vaisakhi, Muslims commemorating Eid-ul-Adha, and Buddhists marking Vesakha.

These — and other — religious observances, remind us that, whatever our background, we are united by common principles of family, tolerance, responsibility and compassion.

These principles led your government to conduct province-wide consultations on barriers to accessibility faced by persons with disabilities. Last fall, your government introduced legislation — the first of its kind in Canada — aimed at breaking down those barriers.

Concerns expressed about this pioneering legislation, however, have been heard. In response, your government will take the time necessary to gather additional input, and will consult further before reintroducing a bill for consideration by the Legislature.

A STRONG, GROWING ECONOMY

The economy is strong. But today's successes are merely a prologue to tomorrow's challenges.

Your government continues to work to make Ontario more competitive and to maintain its reputation as an attractive place to invest, do business and create jobs.

Working together, in less than four years the people of this province have made unparalleled progress.

The deficit has been reduced and, provided the government maintains fiscal discipline and continues to make tough decisions, the budget is on track to be balanced in the year 2000/2001, as promised.

The private sector has created 540,000 new jobs in less than four years.

Taxes have been cut — 69 times.

The average family's after-tax income has increased by more than three thousand dollars.

Ontario now leads the nation in economic growth.

For the first time this decade, there is underlying strength to our economy.

All in Ontario have worked hard — taxpayers, families, employees, small business owners and government. The people of this province have made great progress to get our house in order after years of neglect. While more work remains, people have said the province is on the right track.

Yet Ontario cannot become complacent.

Prosperity did not materialize out of thin air. Economic progress cannot be taken for granted. Both are the result of clear vision, decisive action, hard work and strong leadership.

As citizens of this province, we cannot let up our efforts or coast if we expect to preserve the economic gains won by Ontario families over the past four years.

Economic success stems from making the right choices.

And prosperity gained all too quickly can become prosperity lost if we make the wrong choices.

Future progress depends on continued vigilance, courage and strength of purpose.

Neither Canada nor Ontario is immune to the pressures of a global economy.

We live in a competitive and volatile world — one where jobs and investment can exit the province more easily and quickly than they entered, often at the push of a button.

In a global economy, one false move could result in thousands of lost jobs.

Economic progress ... job creation ... and improvement in our standard of living are fragile.

The 1998 annual report of the Conference Board of Canada serves as a wake-up call to all of us.

While describing 1997's economic performance as "solid," the Conference Board notes that Canada had "lost ground" against other countries — especially our major competitor, the United States.

According to its report, "our poor record of manufacturing productivity growth in the 1990s stands in the way of improving our competitiveness and quality of life in the 21st century. Canadian workers are more productive than most, but less so than U.S. workers. This puts us at a disadvantage in attracting investment in North American markets."

The board warns that our continued inability to generate greater productivity growth is "extremely worrisome. Without improvements, our quality of life is in jeopardy."

"Quality of life" may sound abstract.

The people of Ontario, however, know what it means in real-life terms: Good jobs. Higher take-home pay. More opportunities for our children. Providing for our families. Things that we cherish — like a first-class education system and health care we can rely on.

Strong leadership and clear action are required to protect them. In particular, four key steps:

First, we must continue to reduce taxes.

The debate is over. High taxes kill jobs. Tax cuts create jobs.

Canadian taxes are much higher than those in the United States, which continues to cut its taxes, a fact stressed by the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development last November.

The international body recommends that, "(t)o the extent that the fiscal situation continues to improve, consideration must be given to rolling back the relatively high average tax burden faced by Canadians and lowering high marginal income tax rates."

As one step in the right direction, members will be asked in this session to consider a Taxpayer Protection Act that would prevent future governments from raising taxes without voter approval.

This legislation recognizes that the money spent by government does not belong to government. It belongs to the people who earned it in the first place. It belongs to taxpayers. It is theirs. There must be limits to the amount government can reach into the pockets of hard-working citizens.

Second, we must maintain the province's reputation as an attractive place to invest and create jobs.

Our nation relies heavily on investment to create jobs.

In the words of the Conference Board of Canada, our ability to attract investment "will remain one of the central determinants of our industrial competitiveness as we head into the 21st century. We must ensure that we 'get our share'; otherwise, we will be unable to maintain, much less build upon, our successes of the past."

In a competitive global environment, the eyes of the international community are upon us.

Two years ago, the rights of a group of employees at a Windsor Wal-Mart store were ignored when they were unionized despite voting three-to-one against a union. Newspapers such as the New York Times, Wall Street Journal and Washington Post followed this story closely and spread word across North America and to readers — and investors — around the world.

Last session, members passed a Workplace Democracy Act, Bill 31, which protects the rights of workers by allowing only the workers themselves to decide whether they will unionize.

While some union leaders and politicians have called for Bill 31's repeal, your government believes that such a reversal would be wrong. Repeal would hurt employees' democratic rights. By sending a negative signal to potential job-creators and investors, repeal of Bill 31 would also hurt people looking for work and young people about to graduate and seek their first jobs.

Quite simply, protecting Ontario's economic gains means staying the course.

Efforts to reduce red-tape and other barriers to job-creation must be redoubled. Members will therefore be asked to consider the Red Tape Reduction Act — the most recent in a number of bills the government has introduced to eliminate job-killing regulation.

Ontario cannot afford to slide back to the old days of tax-and-spend government. To that end, members will be asked to consider a Balanced Budget Act that would penalize the Premier and Cabinet if in future they fail to balance the budget.

This legislation simply proposes that governments do what Ontario working families do every day — balance their books, pay their debts, spend within their means.

Third, within Canada, we must eliminate barriers to internal trade.

Your government's position is clear: The Quebec government's 30-year history of unfair treatment of construction contractors and workers from Ontario, and its foot-dragging in living up to internal trade agreements can no longer be tolerated. This is particularly so since, until this month, companies and workers from Quebec had unrestricted access to our province, while many Ontario construction workers went without work.

Recently, the government announced tough measures intended to level the playing field between our two provinces. As the next step, members will be asked to consider a Fairness is a Two-Way Street Act to place new restrictions on construction contractors, workers and aggregate haulers from any place that does not treat Ontario's contractors and workers fairly.

Our ultimate goal is the elimination of barriers, not their entrenchment. Until the playing field is leveled, however, your government is taking strong action to defend the jobs and the livelihood of its people.

Fourth, to maintain Ontario's economic strength and growth requires a clear plan for the future.

Following extensive consultations, the Ontario Jobs and Investment Board has developed a blueprint to enhance our competitiveness and improve our standard of living.

Its final report, A Road Map To Prosperity, addresses the twin challenges of creating meaningful jobs and strengthening the economy — both vital to give us the means to support the things that matter most to us, such as first-class health care and excellence in education.

Your government will follow the road map provided by the Jobs and Investment Board.

A strong economy is important, vital, and critical.

But a strong economy means much more.

A strong economy is the foundation of everything else people want in life for themselves and their families.

Only a strong economy will give us the means to put even more precious dollars into a strong health care system.

Only a strong economy lets us maintain a strong education system.

Only a strong economy means people can look forward to a brighter future for our children ... a cleaner environment ... a safer province.

Good government is about making the right choices ... about ensuring that what government spends is actually an investment in today and tomorrow.

LEARNING FOR ALL

Only a strong economy generates the resources needed to maintain an excellent system of public education.

Child advocate the Honourable Margaret McCain and renowned expert Dr. Fraser Mustard have prepared a ground-breaking report that examines children's development during the early years of their lives.

Their exciting study provides compelling evidence that the manner in which the brain develops before age six — in particular, before age three — has a profound effect on learning, behaviour, coping skills and health later in life.

This government enthusiastically agrees that early-childhood development is a high public priority for all of us, especially parents, grandparents and education and community professionals.

Your government embraces this report. Earlier this week it responded with an Early Years Program that combines existing programs and bold new initiatives.

Excellence in our elementary and secondary schools is characterized by accountability and high standards. This government's plan for better education and excellence will continue.

Building on what has already been accomplished, the government has developed a Charter of Education Rights and Responsibilities that outlines principles by which all those involved in classroom learning can work together for the highest-quality education possible.

The Charter identifies essential rights and responsibilities of students, teachers and parents. To that end, the government will:

- create a province-wide code of conduct for students that sets clear minimum standards for behaviour and spells out the consequences for breaking the rules;
- give teachers the resources they need to maintain respect and discipline in their classrooms and to ensure a safe, productive learning environment;
- require all teachers to participate in a compulsory competency testing program to stay up-to-date;
- expand student testing to all grades;
- ensure that schools promote only those students with acceptable levels of achievement; and
- give parents the right to a more active role in the education system.

Since 1995, your government has introduced a number of education reforms, such as an improved curriculum and standard testing.

Through these meaningful measures, parents can now track their children's progress, evaluate schools in their neighbourhoods and compare boards' performance.

Ensuring quality education for our children requires measuring progress and making certain that all of our teachers have the tools and training they need to get the job done. Just as we now test the performance of our schools and our students, so too should we test teachers.

Your government's plan for post-secondary education also recognizes excellence and achievement. It will continue to improve access, assist students who need it, and work to ensure that degrees and diplomas are direct paths to jobs.

From our early days continuing through adulthood, learning must be a life-long process. This is particularly true as all of us are required to adapt to new technology, new lifestyles and an ever-changing job-market.

Many diverse programs and initiatives throughout the province already contribute to a learning society. Your government will take a leadership role to coordinate these many and diverse fragments.

Your government will also work to ensure that the voice of retired teachers is heard in decisions about the pension plan of which they are beneficiaries.

BREAKING THE CYCLE OF WELFARE DEPENDENCY

Before 1995, respect, dignity and a clear route to self-reliance too often were missing from our welfare system. And too many children were the victims of dependency that was passed from one generation to the next.

Your government has worked to turn welfare from a hand-out to a hand-up.

A strong economy and the introduction of work-for-welfare have combined to free 374,000 people from welfare dependency.

That's equivalent to 12 people every hour escaping the welfare trap. Twelve people an hour whose lives are back on track.

Through mandatory work-for-welfare, more and more welfare recipients are learning new skills and earning valuable references. Many are being introduced to opportunities of which they had never before dreamt.

But the challenging task of turning our welfare system around is not yet complete. Ontario must build upon the progress made to date.

More can be done — more must be done — to ensure that welfare is but a short-term stage in anyone's life ... to ensure that welfare is merely a transition phase leading to bigger and better things, including the excitement of getting and holding a job.

Your government will also re-introduce and ask members to consider amendments to the Child and Family Services Act which, if passed, would promote the best interest, protection and well-being of children. Your government hoped for and wanted the approval of this law during the last session. Once again, it is seeking the support of all members to ensure that no child suffers because better, clearer laws are not in place.

A CLEANER ONTARIO

Today, Earth Day 1999, we recognize the importance of our natural heritage.

Having inherited some of the most beautiful lands and waters in the country, the continent and, indeed, the world, we are filled with a sense of both pride and responsibility.

Your government recently announced the largest expansion of parks and protected areas in the history of Ontario — 378 new parks and protected areas.

As a result of the "Living Legacy" commitment, the people of Ontario now own more than 23 million acres of protected lands and waters, an area equivalent to all of Ontario south of Algonquin Park.

And, last week, one of the most famous urban parklands in the world — The Rouge — was expanded through your government's $26.3 million donation, which includes 1630 acres of land.

As a further step in our conservation plans and to recognize the coming millennium, your government will respond to groups that have asked it to take a leadership role in developing the Century Conservation Challenge Awards.

This awards program will recognize communities, provincial agencies, individuals and corporations that set and meet conservation goals to commemorate the new century and millennium.

The government is already taking other steps to protect our environment, launching the Drive Clean program to reduce smog in our cities and going to court to ensure that our American neighbours will hold themselves to the tough air quality standards to which Ontario will hold itself.

Although the people of Ontario have already accomplished a great deal, our work to protect the environment teaches us that we must continue to make progress and cannot coast on yesterday's victories.

HEALTH CARE WE CAN DEPEND ON

All of us in this province cherish public health care. We expect it to be there for us when we need it.

As much as we value it, people also understand the delivery of health care is a complex, complicated issue. There are no easy answers.

This complexity is compounded by the fact that government funds the system, but does not control every aspect of it.

Governments in all provinces and territories — regardless of political stripe — face many of the same issues and dilemmas.

The Ontario government is working closely with its counterparts in other provinces to share best practices and coordinate efforts to improve health care.

During the last four years, your government has made some difficult decisions to ensure that people have access to an efficient and modern system. This has not been easy, but for too long these decisions had been put off and Ontario's health care system was left to drift and decline.

Your government has made these long-delayed, tough decisions. Today, most experts agree that the health care system is now pointed in the right direction ... And with renewed economic strength, for the first time in many years, Ontario has the ability to re-invest in health care.

This is all at risk, however, unless the economy is strong and vibrant.

It takes a strong economy to give us the means we need to support a health care system on which we all can truly rely. It takes a strong economy to preserve universal access to health care services.

Only a growing economy has made possible the expansion of cardiac care services by 36 per cent ... new dialysis services for 320 patients closer to their homes ... expanded breast-cancer screening for 325,000 women annually by 2000 ... and 20,000 new long-term care beds — the first in over a decade.

Construction of the first group of 6700 long-term care beds is already underway, and a further 6700 beds will be awarded this spring. Included in the beds to be awarded will be Canada's first long-term care centre for the deaf community. Your government will work with the Bob Rumball Centre for the Deaf to meet the long-term care needs of deaf seniors.

Furthermore, your government has launched Canada's first comprehensive strategy addressing the needs of people with Alzheimer's disease and their families.

Only a growing economy has made it possible for the provincial government to increase health care spending by $1.5 billion since 1995, as well as offset the impact of federal funding cuts.

Ontario's government is proud to have led the campaign to reverse the federal government's health care cuts. The federal government has finally started to restore some of the $2.8 billion that it cut. This is a good first step, but it is only a first step.

Your government has promised that every dollar of health care funding that the federal government restores to the people of Ontario will be spent on health care.

This money is already being directed to five priorities:

- hiring more nurses;
- reducing waiting lists;
- relieving pressure on emergency rooms;
- expanding home care even further; and
- accelerating the plan to open 20,000 new long-term care beds.

While the task is difficult and the challenges are complex, your government is determined to continue to provide a universally-accessible health care system that provides top quality service to patients, where and when they need it.

A SAFER PROVINCE

Citizens expect their elected representatives to keep our streets safe and our communities secure.

They expect their governments and leaders to be clearly and unequivocally on the side of victims — not willing and eager to defend and make excuses for the criminals who prey on too many.

The Ontario government hears the concerns people have voiced about the prevalence of crime.

It understands that these concerns are real and legitimate — not fabricated or overstated.

For decades, governments across the country have tried to explain away criminal behaviour. This approach has failed.

Governments need to explain less and to deter more.

Your government is fighting crime — not turning its back and dismissing people's concerns.

Already your government's actions are placing an additional 1000 new, front-line police officers on our streets, as well as 120 new OPP cadets.

Shortly it will place before you proposed legislation to establish a provincial registry of sex offenders. The bill is named Christopher's Law in memory of 11-year old Christopher Stephenson, who in 1988 was brutally murdered by a convicted pedophile free on federal parole.

The government will also announce a comprehensive strategy to combat elder abuse.

The federal government once again has ignored the need and the public demand for fundamental reform of the young offenders law. For its part, the provincial government remains committed to turning young offenders' lives around through "boot camp" and strict discipline programs.

We must not forget the women and men who protect our neighbourhoods and our families — more so, those officers who lay down their lives doing so.

In order to properly recognize the sacrifice made by police officers who have lost their lives in the service of the people of Ontario, your government — in cooperation with police organizations — will construct a memorial to fallen officers.

The monument will be raised only yards away from this Legislature, just south of the Whitney Block. Its location will remind not just citizens— but also public servants, MPPs, and cabinet ministers — of the women and men across this province who gave their lives while safeguarding ours and those of our families.

ON TRACK TO THE FUTURE

As Year 2000 approaches, already preparations are underway for an entire year of celebration and commemoration, of remembrance of our past and optimism for our future.

As we prepare for a new millennium, the people of Ontario maintain these fundamental beliefs:

The global economy is a reality that cannot be ignored.

Our thirst for knowledge has never been as important.

Dignity, respect and self-reliance must continue to be a part of our welfare system.

We must protect our environment.

We need to preserve a public health care system on which every family in Ontario can truly rely.

And the desire to protect the safety and security of ourselves and our families endures.

In the face of these demands, it is essential that Ontario continue to grow and prosper ... continue to develop the means to provide what we all want and need.

Our province already derives much strength from its resources and its people.

But more than these alone will be required to maintain our forward momentum.

To match the strength of its citizens and resources, the people of Ontario need vision, determination, decisiveness, inspiration and courage from their leaders.

Your government understands these expectations.

It has responded to this challenge for the past four years.

And it will continue to do so into the future.

Members of the Legislative Assembly, may wisdom and fairness guide your deliberations throughout this session.

God bless our country. God bless our province. God save the Queen.

Monsieur le président, membres de l'Assemblée législative, citoyennes et citoyens de la province,

J'ai le plaisir de vous accueillir à l'ouverture de la troisième session de la 36^e législature de l'Ontario.

Cette cérémonie est enracinée dans plus de 700 ans d'histoire. Lorsque Édouard I^{er} a convoqué le premier parlement représentatif en 1295, il a ouvert la session par un discours dans lequel il énonçait ses propres priorités. Aujourd'hui, nous vivons dans une démocratie moderne où le souverain règne mais ne gouverne pas et où le gouvernement élu par la population agit au nom de la Couronne.

De nos jours, on ouvre la session parlementaire par une allocution qu'ont préparée les ministres de Sa Majesté et qui présente les politiques et les projets du gouvernement.

Par conséquent, le discours que je lis cet après-midi représente à la fois le lien de notre démocratie avec le passé et son évolution vers l'avenir — un symbole de continuité et de progrès.

En premier lieu, je propose que nous observions un moment de silence à la mémoire de quatre employés de la commission de transport d'Ottawa-Carleton qui ont perdu la vie au début du mois, alors qu'ils travaillaient pour subvenir à leurs besoins et à ceux de leur famille. Nous nous rappelons Brian Guay, Clare Davidson, David Lemay et Harry Schoenmakers.

Depuis la prorogation de la deuxième session, l'Ontario a perdu trois anciens parlementaires éminents :

- Margaret Campbell, avocate et juge de la cour provinciale, a représenté la circonscription de St. George, à Toronto, de 1973 à 1981.
- Donald Alexander Paterson, propriétaire et administrateur de Paterson's Dry Goods et citoyen de longue date de Leamington, a représenté pendant 12 ans la population d'Essex-Sud.
- Charles Joseph Sylvanus Apps, mieux connu sous le nom de Syl Apps, a représenté la région de Kingston pendant les 12 mêmes années et a été ministre des Services correctionnels.

Toute sa vie, Margaret Campbell a joué un rôle de pionnière. Reçue au barreau en 1937, à une époque où les femmes se heurtaient à bien des obstacles dans cette profession, elle a, dès 1952, mis sur pied son propre cabinet.

En tant que responsable du budget de la Ville de Toronto, Mme Campbell a le mérite d'avoir modernisé le processus budgétaire de la Ville et d'avoir instauré l'usage des ordinateurs à l'hôtel de ville. Elle a été juge au tribunal de la famille, puis elle est devenue, en 1973, la première femme libérale à siéger à l'Assemblée législative.

En reconnaissance de son oeuvre de pionnière et de ses nombreuses réalisations, le Parti libéral a créé le Fonds Margaret Campbell en 1984, afin de favoriser le recrutement de candidates et l'élection de femmes à l'Assemblée législative.

Donald Paterson a quitté Queen's Park en 1975, mais son amour de la politique et son dévouement pour la collectivité ont perduré.

On gardera de M. Paterson le souvenir d'un écologiste convaincu qui a planté des milliers d'arbres dans la zone de protection de la nature de Two Creeks, qu'il a contribué à créer.

Le dernier geste de Donald Paterson a été de faire don de ses yeux à des fins de greffe cornéenne. Cet acte noble de la part d'un homme qui se faisait de l'humilité un point d'honneur nous rappelle à tous l'importance des dons d'organe.

Champion canadien de saut à la perche, athlète olympique et joueur de centre étoile pour les Maple Leafs de Toronto, Syl Apps a quitté l'équipe alors qu'il était à l'apogée de sa carrière pour s'enrôler dans l'armée canadienne et servir son pays pendant la Seconde Guerre mondiale.

À la fin du conflit, il est retourné jouer avec les Maple Leafs. Avant de faire de la politique, M. Apps avait occupé le poste de commissaire aux sports professionnels de l'Ontario.

En hommage à l'amour du sport qui animait Syl Apps, à son sens du devoir et à ses années de service pour la population ontarienne, le gouvernement créera un bureau pour le développement des sports et des loisirs communautaires, qui sera placé sous la direction d'un coordonnateur provincial.

L'une des responsabilités du coordonnateur sera la remise annuelle du Prix d'excellence Syl Apps à des garçons et à des filles de toute la province qui incarnent les plus grandes qualités de cet ancien député : l'athlétisme, le sens du devoir et le dévouement.

La population de toute la province — et, en fait, de tout le Canada — a souligné récemment le départ de l'équipe de hockey de l'édifice où Syl Apps a joué bon nombre de ses meilleurs matchs : le Maple Leaf Gardens.

Cet édifice a été source d'espoir et de fierté même aux jours les plus sombres de la Grande Crise et a été l'hôte d'événements aussi variés que des congrès politiques et des spectacles de musique rock... et pendant 68 ans, ce stade a été le foyer des Maple Leafs, équipe de prédilection de Syl.

Cette semaine a marqué la fin d'une époque mémorable de l'histoire du hockey canadien — l'ère Gretzky. Wayne Gretzky, le meilleur joueur de tous les temps, passera à l'histoire non seulement pour la brillance de son jeu, mais aussi pour son rôle d'ambassadeur canadien du hockey à l'étranger.

Les souvenirs qui forment la trame de la riche histoire de notre province et que l'on perpétue d'une génération à l'autre nous rappellent le lien spécial qui nous unit à nos parents, à nos grands-parents et aux personnes qui nous ont élevés.

C'est avec un sentiment d'amour et de fierté que nous prenons quelques instants pour remercier ceux et celles qui nous ont vus grandir... qui ont pris soin de nous contre vents et marées... et qui nous ont encouragés à travailler fort, à faire de notre mieux et à ne jamais abandonner la partie.

La population ontarienne accorde aussi une grande importance à la liberté et aux droits de la personne.

Nous disons aujourd'hui une prière pour les hommes et les femmes des Forces canadiennes, notamment ceux et celles qui risquent leur vie pour protéger les minorités dans d'autres pays.

Nous pensons aujourd'hui à tous les peuples de la Terre qui fuient la persécution.

Les événements qui se produisent de l'autre côté de la planète nous rappellent que notre province a été façonnée par la contribution de femmes et d'hommes venus de tous les coins du monde.

Nous sommes à une période importante de l'année pour beaucoup de membres de la grande famille ontarienne. Les juifs, par exemple, commémorent la pâque. Les adeptes de la foi baha'ie reconnaissent la période sainte de Ridvan. Les chrétiens célèbrent la résurrection de Jésus-Christ. Les sikhs et les hindous marquent Vaisakhi, tandis que les musulmans fêtent Eid-ul-Adha et que les bouddhistes observent la fête de Vesakha.

Ces pratiques religieuses, entre autres, nous rappellent que, quels que soient nos antécédents, nous sommes tous unis par des principes communs : le sens de la famille, la tolérance, la responsabilité et la compassion.

Ces principes ont amené votre gouvernement à mener des consultations à l'échelle de la province sur les obstacles à l'accessibilité auxquels se heurtent les personnes qui ont un handicap. L'automne dernier, votre gouvernement a déposé un projet de loi — le premier en son genre au Canada — dans le but d'éliminer ces obstacles.

Nous avons cependant prêté l'oreille aux préoccupations qui ont été exprimées relativement à cette mesure avant-gardiste. Votre gouvernement prendra donc le temps nécessaire pour recueillir d'autres observations et il consultera la population davantage avant de présenter à nouveau un tel projet de loi à l'Assemblée législative.

UNE ÉCONOMIE VIGOUREUSE ET EN PLEINE CROISSANCE

L'économie est vigoureuse, mais nous devons nous rappeler que les succès d'aujourd'hui ne sont qu'un prologue aux défis de demain.

Votre gouvernement poursuit ses efforts pour rendre l'Ontario plus concurrentiel et pour maintenir sa réputation de lieu propice à l'investissement, aux affaires et à la création d'emplois.

Conjuguant leurs efforts, les citoyens et citoyennes de la province ont fait, depuis quatre ans à peine, des progrès sans précédent.

Le déficit a été réduit et, pourvu que le gouvernement continue de s'astreindre à une discipline budgétaire et de prendre les décisions difficiles qui s'imposent, le budget devrait être équilibré au cours de l'exercice 2000-2001, comme promis.

Le secteur privé a créé 540 000 emplois en moins de quatre ans.

Nous avons réduit les taxes et les impôts — 69 fois.

Le revenu net d'impôt d'une famille moyenne s'est accru de plus de trois mille dollars.

L'Ontario est maintenant le chef de file du pays en ce qui a trait à la croissance économique.

Pour la première fois depuis le début de la décennie, notre économie manifeste une force sous-jacente.

Tous ont travaillé fort en Ontario — les contribuables, les familles, les employés, les propriétaires de petites entreprises et le gouvernement. La population ontarienne a fait de grands progrès en vue de rétablir l'ordre dans les affaires de la province, après des années de négligence. Il reste encore beaucoup à faire, mais les Ontariens nous indiquent que nous sommes sur la bonne voie.

Nous ne pouvons cependant nous reposer sur nos lauriers.

La prospérité n'est pas venue de nulle part, et il ne faut pas tenir le progrès économique pour acquis. Ces deux phénomènes résultent d'une clarté de vision, de gestes résolus, d'un acharnement au travail et d'un leadership énergétique.

Citoyennes et citoyens de l'Ontario, nous nous devons de soutenir la cadence si nous voulons préserver les gains économiques réalisés au cours des quatre dernières années.

Le succès économique est la conséquence des bons choix que nous avons faits.

Et la prospérité gagnée peut rapidement disparaître si nous nous engageons dans la mauvaise voie.

Le progrès futur dépend de notre vigilance, de notre vaillance et de notre détermination constantes.

Ni le Canada ni l'Ontario ne sont à l'abri des pressions d'une économie mondiale.

Nous vivons dans un monde concurrentiel, changeant et incertain. Un monde où les emplois et les investissements peuvent quitter la province plus facilement et plus rapidement qu'ils n'y sont entrés. Souvent, il suffit d'appuyer sur un bouton.

Dans une économie mondiale, toute maladresse ou mauvaise décision peut entraîner la perte de milliers d'emplois.

Le progrès économique... la création d'emplois... et l'amélioration de notre niveau de vie sont fragiles.

Dans un rapport annuel publié en 1998, le Conference Board du Canada émet une mise en garde.

Bien qu'il qualifie de solide la performance économique de 1997, cet organisme fait remarquer que le Canada a perdu du terrain par rapport à certains pays, notamment à notre principal concurrent, les États-Unis.

Dans ce rapport, on affirme que le faible accroissement de la productivité de notre secteur manufacturier, au cours des années 1990, risque de compromettre l'amélioration de notre compétitivité et de notre qualité de vie au XXI^e siècle. La productivité des travailleurs canadiens, bien que supérieure à celle de la majorité des autres pays, est inférieure à celle de la main-d'œuvre américaine. Cela nous défavorise lorsqu'il s'agit d'attirer les investissements sur les marchés nord-américains.

Le Conference Board nous avertit que notre incapacité chronique d'accroître notre productivité est extrêmement inquiétante et qu'elle menace notre niveau de vie.

L'expression «niveau de vie» peut sembler abstraite.

Mais la population ontarienne sait ce que cela signifie concrètement : de bons emplois... un salaire net plus élevé... de meilleures chances d'avenir pour nos enfants... la capacité de subvenir aux besoins de nos familles... des avantages auxquels nous tenons — par exemple, un système d'éducation de premier ordre et des soins de santé sur lesquels nous pouvons compter.

Un leadership résolu et des moyens précis sont nécessaires pour les protéger, y compris quatre mesures importantes :

Premièrement, nous devons continuer de réduire les impôts.

Le débat est clos. Les impôts élevés tuent les emplois, tandis que les réductions d'impôt ont pour effet d'en créer.

Les impôts au Canada sont beaucoup plus élevés qu'aux États-Unis, et ces derniers continuent à les réduire. Cette situation a été mise en évidence par l'Organisation de Coopération et de Développement Économiques en novembre dernier.

Selon la recommandation de cet organisme international, dans la mesure où la situation fiscale continuera de s'améliorer, on devrait envisager la possibilité de réduire la charge fiscale moyenne relativement élevée de la population canadienne et d'abaisser le taux marginal d'imposition, qui est substantiel.

Pour faire un pas dans la bonne voie, nous demanderons aux députés, au cours de la session, d'envisager l'adoption d'une Loi sur la protection des contribuables, afin d'empêcher les gouvernements futurs d'augmenter les impôts sans le consentement de l'électorat.

Cette loi reconnaît que l'argent dépensé par le gouvernement ne lui appartient pas. Il appartient d'abord à ceux et celles qui le gagnent. Il appartient aux contribuables. Il faut imposer des limites au montant que le gouvernement peut aller puiser dans les poches de citoyens qui gagnent durement leur vie.

Deuxièmement, nous devons maintenir la réputation qu'a la province d'être un lieu où il fait bon s'établir et créer des emplois.

Pour créer des emplois, notre pays compte beaucoup sur les investissements.

De l'avis du Conference Board du Canada, notre capacité d'attirer les investissements demeurera l'un des principaux déterminants de notre compétitivité industrielle à l'aube du XXI^e siècle. Nous devons veiller à obtenir notre juste part, sinon nous serons incapables de maintenir les progrès réalisés jusqu'ici, et encore moins de faire fond sur ces progrès.

Dans un contexte de concurrence mondiale, la communauté internationale a les yeux sur nous.

Il y a deux ans, les droits d'un groupe d'employés d'un magasin Wal-Mart de Windsor ont été méconnus lorsque ces employés ont dû joindre les rangs d'un syndicat, même si les trois quarts d'entre eux avaient voté contre l'affiliation syndicale. Des journaux tels que le New York Times, le Wall Street Journal et le Washington Post ont publié des articles à ce sujet, et la nouvelle s'est répandue dans toute l'Amérique du Nord et a rejoint les lecteurs — et les investisseurs — du monde entier.

Au cours de la dernière session, les membres de l'Assemblée ont adopté le projet de loi 31, intitulé Loi sur la démocratie en milieu de travail, qui protège les droits des travailleurs en leur donnant à eux seuls le droit de décider s'ils veulent se syndiquer.

Bien que certains leaders syndicaux et des politiciens aient réclamé l'abrogation du projet de loi 31, le gouvernement estime qu'un tel revirement serait une erreur, car cela porterait atteinte aux droits démocratiques des employés. De plus, en envoyant un message négatif aux créateurs d'emplois et aux investisseurs éventuels, l'abrogation de cette mesure législative ferait du tort aux personnes qui cherchent du travail et aux jeunes qui sont sur le point d'obtenir leur diplôme et de décrocher leur premier emploi.

En un mot, pour protéger les gains économiques de l'Ontario, nous devons absolument poursuivre notre trajectoire.

Nous devons redoubler nos efforts pour réduire les formalités administratives et éliminer les autres obstacles à la création d'emplois. Nous demanderons donc aux membres de l'Assemblée d'étudier la Loi visant à réduire les formalités administratives. Il s'agit du plus récent d'une série de projets de loi déposés par le gouvernement pour éliminer la réglementation qui étouffe les emplois.

L'Ontario ne peut pas se permettre de revenir en arrière, à l'époque où les gouvernements recouraient librement à l'imposition et à la dépense. Voilà pourquoi les députés seront invités à examiner une Loi sur l'équilibre budgétaire qui punirait le premier ministre et le conseil des ministres si, à l'avenir, ceux-ci étaient incapables de présenter un budget équilibré.

Cette loi propose simplement que les gouvernements fassent ce que fait chaque jour toute famille ontarienne — équilibrer son budget, payer ses dettes, dépenser selon ses moyens.

Troisièmement, à l'intérieur des frontières canadiennes, nous devons éliminer les obstacles au commerce.

La position du gouvernement est claire. Depuis 30 ans, le gouvernement du Québec traite injustement les entrepreneurs de construction et les ouvriers du bâtiment de l'Ontario. La lenteur de cette province à appliquer les dispositions des ententes sur le commerce intérieur ne sera plus tolérée. D'autant moins que, jusqu'à ce mois-ci, les compagnies et les travailleurs du Québec ont eu pleine liberté d'accès à notre province, tandis qu'un grand nombre d'ouvriers ontariens de la construction étaient sans emploi.

Le gouvernement a annoncé récemment des mesures sévères visant à uniformiser les règles du jeu entre nos deux provinces. Dans un deuxième temps, nous demanderons aux députés d'envisager l'adoption d'une Loi portant que la justice n'est pas à sens unique, afin d'imposer de nouvelles restrictions aux entrepreneurs de construction, aux ouvriers et aux transporteurs d'agrégats provenant de toute province qui ne traite pas équitablement les entrepreneurs et les ouvriers ontariens.

Notre objectif final est l'élimination des obstacles, et non leur consécration. Tant que les règles du jeu n'auront pas été uniformisées, votre gouvernement prendra des mesures énergiques pour défendre les emplois et le gagne-pain des habitants de la province.

Quatrièmement, pour maintenir la vigueur et la croissance économiques de l'Ontario, nous avons besoin d'un plan d'avenir bien défini.

Après avoir mené de vastes consultations, le Conseil de l'emploi et de l'investissement de l'Ontario a mis au point un plan directeur qui nous permettra d'améliorer notre compétitivité et de rehausser notre niveau de vie.

Dans son rapport final intitulé Carte routière de la prospérité, le Conseil traite du double défi que constituent la création d'emplois valables et la consolidation de l'économie. Il faut absolument remplir ces deux conditions pour être en mesure de nous offrir ce qui compte le plus pour nous, notamment des soins de santé de premier ordre et l'excellence en éducation.

Votre gouvernement suivra la carte routière tracée par le Conseil de l'emploi et de l'investissement de l'Ontario.

La vigueur économique est, bien sûr, d'une importance vitale.

Mais c'est encore beaucoup plus que cela.

C'est le fondement de tout ce que les gens veulent d'autre, pour eux-mêmes et pour leur famille.

Seule une économie vigoureuse nous permet d'injecter encore plus d'argent dans un système de santé solide.

Seule une économie vigoureuse nous permet de maintenir un système d'éducation de haute qualité.

Seule une économie vigoureuse peut assurer un meilleur avenir à nos enfants... un environnement plus sain... un milieu plus sécuritaire.

Un bon gouvernement se doit de faire les bons choix... de s'assurer que ce qu'il dépense est en fait un investissement, dans l'immédiat et dans l'avenir.

L'ÉDUCATION EN ONTARIO

Seule une économie vigoureuse peut générer les ressources nécessaires pour assurer le maintien d'un excellent système d'éducation publique.

L'honorable Margaret McCain, défenseure des droits des enfants, et Fraser Mustard, un spécialiste réputé, ont rédigé un rapport innovateur sur l'apprentissage pendant les premières années de la vie d'un enfant.

Selon cette étude des plus intéressantes, la façon dont le cerveau se développe avant l'âge de six ans - et plus particulièrement avant trois ans - a d'importantes répercussions sur l'apprentissage, le comportement, les capacités d'adaptation et la santé plus tard dans la vie.

Le gouvernement reconnaît très volontiers que le développement des jeunes enfants est une grande priorité publique pour nous tous, et surtout pour les parents, les grands-parents et les professionnels de l'éducation et de la vie communautaire.

Le présent gouvernement appuie ce rapport. En fait, au début de la semaine, il y a donné suite en mettant sur pied un programme sur le développement de la petite enfance, qui allie les programmes actuels et de nouvelles initiatives audacieuses.

L'excellence dans nos écoles élémentaires et secondaires se caractérise par la responsabilisation de tous et le respect de normes élevées. Le présent gouvernement maintient ses idéaux en matière d'éducation et d'excellence.

Le gouvernement a fait fond sur les réalisations antérieures et élaboré une Charte ontarienne des droits et devoirs en éducation qui décrit les principes selon lesquels tous les intervenants peuvent assurer ensemble l'excellence de l'enseignement en classe.

Cette charte définit les droits et devoirs essentiels des élèves, des enseignants et des parents. À cette fin, le gouvernement :

- établira un code de conduite applicable aux élèves de toute la province, qui fixe des normes minimales claires en matière de comportement et précise les conséquences de toute infraction aux règles prévues;

- donnera au personnel enseignant les ressources dont il a besoin pour favoriser le respect et la discipline en classe et assurer un milieu d'apprentissage sécuritaire et productif;
- exigera que tout le personnel enseignant participe à un programme obligatoire d'évaluation des compétences afin d'assurer l'actualisation de ses connaissances;
- appliquera le programme d'évaluation des connaissances des élèves à toutes les années d'études;
- veillera à ce que seuls les élèves ayant obtenu des résultats acceptables passent à une classe supérieure;
- donnera aux parents le droit de jouer un rôle plus actif dans le système d'éducation.

Depuis 1995, le gouvernement a instauré un certain nombre de réformes dans le domaine de l'éducation. Par exemple, nous avons amélioré le curriculum et mis en place un système d'examens normalisés.

Grâce à ces mesures importantes, les parents peuvent maintenant suivre les progrès de leurs enfants, évaluer les écoles de leur quartier et comparer les résultats obtenus par divers conseils scolaires.

Pour assurer une éducation de qualité à nos enfants, nous devons, d'une part, évaluer leurs progrès et, d'autre part, veiller à ce que les enseignantes et enseignants possèdent les outils et la formation nécessaires pour bien faire leur travail. Nous évaluons le rendement des écoles et des élèves, nous devrions donc aussi évaluer la performance du personnel enseignant.

Le programme du gouvernement en matière d'enseignement postsecondaire reconnaît lui aussi l'excellence et la réussite. Nous continuerons d'améliorer l'accès à l'enseignement postsecondaire, d'aider les étudiants qui en ont besoin et de veiller à ce que les diplômes mènent directement à des emplois.

L'acquisition du savoir est un processus continu, qui commence à la naissance et qui se poursuit tout au long de la vie. Cela est particulièrement vrai aujourd'hui alors que nous devons tous nous adapter à de nouvelles technologies, à de nouveaux modes de vie et à un marché du travail en constante évolution.

Nombre d'initiatives et de programmes à l'échelle de la province favorisent déjà l'apparition d'une société de l'apprentissage. Votre gouvernement jouera un rôle de chef de file dans la coordination de ces interventions diverses et nombreuses.

Il fera aussi des démarches pour veiller à ce que les enseignants et enseignantes à la retraite aient voix au chapitre en ce qui concerne les décisions prises à l'égard de leur régime de retraite.

FIN DU CYCLE DE LA DÉPENDANCE À L'ÉGARD DE L'AIDE SOCIALE

Avant 1995, le respect, la dignité et une voie d'accès vers l'autonomie étaient trop souvent absents de notre système d'aide sociale. Et trop d'enfants étaient les victimes d'un cycle de dépendance qui se transmettait de génération en génération.

Votre gouvernement a réussi à révolutionner l'aide sociale.

Une économie vigoureuse et l'instauration du programme de travail obligatoire ont permis à 374 000 personnes de secouer les chaînes de l'aide sociale.

Autrement dit, 12 personnes ont réussi, toutes les heures, à s'affranchir de l'aide sociale. Douze personnes pour qui la vie a repris son cours normal.

Grâce au programme de travail obligatoire, un nombre accru de bénéficiaires de l'aide sociale acquièrent de nouvelles compétences et obtiennent des références utiles. Un grand nombre ont accès à des débouchés dont ils n'avaient jamais rêvé.

Néanmoins, notre projet de réformer radicalement le système d'aide sociale n'est pas encore réalisé. L'Ontario doit continuer à marquer des points en misant sur les progrès faits jusqu'à présent.

Nous pouvons — et devons — faire encore plus pour veiller à ce que le recours à l'aide sociale ne soit qu'un épisode passager dans la vie de quelqu'un... pour veiller à ce que l'aide sociale ne soit qu'une phase transitoire vers un meilleur avenir, qui procurera la joie et la satisfaction d'obtenir et de conserver un emploi.

Votre gouvernement présentera une fois de plus des modifications à la Loi sur les services à l'enfance et à la famille qui, si elles sont adoptées, favoriseront l'intérêt véritable, la protection et le bien-être des enfants. Votre gouvernement voulait et espérait faire adopter ces nouvelles mesures législatives l'automne dernier.

Il sollicite, encore une fois, le soutien de tous les membres de l'Assemblée pour faire en sorte qu'aucun enfant ne souffre en raison de l'absence de dispositions législatives mieux conçues et plus claires.

UN ONTARIO PLUS PROPRE

Aujourd'hui, nous célébrons le Jour de la Terre. Il est donc approprié de reconnaître l'importance de notre patrimoine naturel.

Les terres, les lacs et les rivières dont nous avons hérité sont parmi les plus beaux du pays, du continent, voire du monde. Cela nous remplit de fierté, mais accroît nos responsabilités.

Récemment, votre gouvernement a annoncé l'expansion du réseau de parcs et de terres protégées la plus importante de toute l'histoire de l'Ontario. En effet, 378 nouveaux parcs et zones protégées ont été créés.

Par suite de l'adoption de la stratégie «Patrimoine vital», les Ontariens et Ontariennes possèdent maintenant plus de 23 millions d'acres de terres et de cours d'eau protégés, soit une superficie égale à la totalité du territoire ontarien au sud du Parc Algonquin.

Et la semaine dernière, le gouvernement a cédé 1 630 acres de terrain, un don de 26,3 millions de dollars, à l'un des parcs en milieu urbain les plus connus du monde, le réseau de terres de la Rouge.

Dans un effort pour assurer une plus grande protection de la nature et pour marquer l'avènement du nouveau millénaire, le gouvernement donnera suite aux recommandations des groupes qui souhaitent qu'il exerce son leadership à cet égard et il créera les Prix du siècle pour la protection de la nature.

Ces prix seront décernés aux communautés, organismes provinciaux, particuliers et sociétés qui se fixent et atteignent des objectifs en matière de protection de la nature pour souligner à la fois le nouveau siècle et le nouveau millénaire.

Le gouvernement est déjà en train de prendre d'autres mesures pour protéger l'environnement. Par exemple, il a lancé le programme Air pur Ontario pour réduire le smog dans nos villes et il a entrepris des démarches devant les tribunaux pour que nos voisins américains respectent les normes élevées que l'Ontario respectera lui-même en matière de qualité de l'air.

Même si les réalisations de la population ontarienne sont déjà nombreuses, nos efforts en matière de protection de l'environnement nous montrent que nous devons continuer de faire des progrès et que nous ne pouvons pas nous contenter de ces succès.

UN SYSTÈME DE SANTÉ FIABLE

Nous attachons tous, dans la province, un grand prix à notre système public de santé et nous nous attendons à ce qu'il soit là lorsque nous en avons besoin.

Mais la population sait aussi que la prestation de services de santé est un processus multidimensionnel et compliqué et qu'il n'est pas aisé de trouver des solutions dans ce domaine.

Cette complexité s'accroît du fait que le gouvernement s'occupe du financement du système, mais qu'il n'en contrôle pas tous les aspects.

Les gouvernements de chaque province et territoire — quelle que soit leur couleur politique — font face aux mêmes problèmes et dilemmes.

Le gouvernement de l'Ontario collabore étroitement avec les gouvernements d'autres provinces en vue de partager les meilleures pratiques et de coordonner les initiatives d'amélioration des soins de santé.

Au cours des quatre dernières années, le gouvernement a été appelé à prendre certaines décisions difficiles pour que la population ait accès à un système efficient et moderne. Cela n'a pas été facile, mais ces décisions avaient été différées trop longtemps et le système de santé de l'Ontario avait commencé à dériver et à se dégrader.

Nous avons pris ces décisions difficiles qui avaient tardé. Aujourd'hui, la plupart des experts s'entendent pour dire que le système de santé est dans la bonne voie. Et, grâce à la vigueur renouvelée de l'économie, l'Ontario peut, pour la première fois depuis de nombreuses années, procéder à des réinvestissements dans le système de santé.

Tous ces progrès sont cependant menacés si notre économie n'est pas solide et vigoureuse.

En effet, il nous faut une économie vigoureuse pour nous permettre de financer un système de santé sur lequel nous pouvons tous vraiment compter. Il nous faut une économie vigoureuse si nous voulons protéger l'accès universel aux soins de santé.

Seule une économie en pleine croissance nous a permis d'accroître le traitement des maladies cardiaques de 36 pour 100... d'offrir 320 nouvelles unités de dialyse plus près du domicile des malades... d'élargir les initiatives de dépistage du cancer du sein de façon à permettre à 325 000 femmes d'en bénéficier chaque année dès l'an 2000... d'ouvrir, pour la première fois en plus de dix ans, 20 000 nouveaux lits de soins de longue durée.

L'aménagement d'un premier groupe de locaux qui abriteront 6 700 lits de soins de longue durée a déjà commencé, et 6 700 lits de plus seront autorisés ce printemps. Ces lits comprennent notamment ceux qui seront ouverts dans le premier centre de soins de longue durée au Canada pour personnes sourdes. Le gouvernement collaborera avec le centre Bob Rumball pour personnes sourdes afin de satisfaire aux besoins à long terme des personnes âgées malentendantes.

En outre, notre province a été la première au Canada à proposer une stratégie globale visant à répondre aux besoins des personnes ayant la maladie d'Alzheimer et de leur famille.

Seule une économie en pleine croissance a permis au gouvernement provincial d'injecter 1,5 milliard de dollars dans les services de santé depuis 1995, en plus de compenser les réductions budgétaires du gouvernement fédéral.

Le gouvernement de l'Ontario est fier d'avoir mené la campagne visant à inciter le gouvernement fédéral à revenir sur sa décision quant aux compressions fédérales dans le domaine de la santé. Ottawa a finalement entrepris de rétablir une partie des paiements de transfert de 2,8 milliards de dollars qu'il avait éliminés. C'est un pas dans la bonne direction, mais ce n'est qu'un premier pas.

Votre gouvernement s'est engagé à ce que chaque dollar des paiements de transfert en matière de santé que le gouvernement fédéral versera de nouveau à la population ontarienne soit bel et bien consacré aux soins de santé.

Cette aide financière est déjà affectée à cinq priorités :

- engager du personnel infirmier supplémentaire;
- réduire les listes d'attente;
- diminuer l'engorgement des salles d'urgence;
- élargir encore plus le programme de soins à domicile;
- accélérer le projet d'ouvrir 20 000 nouveaux lits de soins de longue durée.

La tâche est complexe et le défi est grand, mais le gouvernement est déterminé à maintenir un système de santé qui soit universellement accessible et qui offre des services de qualité, là où les patients en ont besoin et quand ils en ont besoin.

UN MILIEU PLUS SÉCURITAIRE

Les citoyens s'attendent à ce que leurs représentants élus fassent leur possible pour assurer la sécurité de tous dans les rues et les collectivités.

Ils s'attendent à ce que leurs gouvernements et leurs leaders soient clairement et catégoriquement du côté des victimes, au lieu de s'empresse de défendre et d'excuser les criminels qui font malheureusement trop de victimes.

Le gouvernement de l'Ontario sait que la population s'inquiète de la hausse de la criminalité.

Il sait que ces préoccupations sont réelles et légitimes, qu'elles ne sont pas inventées, ni exagérées.

Pendant des dizaines d'années, les divers gouvernements du pays ont tenté d'expliquer les comportements criminels. Cette approche a échoué.

Il importe que les gouvernements délaissent la recherche d'explications et appliquent davantage de mesures de dissuasion.

Le gouvernement lutte contre la criminalité. Il ne fuit pas ses responsabilités, ni ne rejette les préoccupations de la population.

Votre gouvernement est déjà en train de recruter 1 000 nouveaux agents de police de première ligne qui patrouilleront nos rues, de même que 120 nouveaux cadets de la Police provinciale de l'Ontario.

Il présentera bientôt un projet de loi prévoyant la création d'un registre provincial de délinquants sexuels. Ce projet de loi s'intitulera Loi Christopher, à la mémoire de Christopher Stephenson, ce jeune garçon de 11 ans qui a été tué brutalement en 1988 par un pédophile condamné à qui le gouvernement fédéral avait accordé une libération conditionnelle.

Le gouvernement annoncera aussi une stratégie globale de lutte contre la violence à l'égard des personnes âgées.

Une fois de plus, le gouvernement fédéral a refusé de réformer en profondeur la législation concernant les jeunes contrevenants, comme le lui demandait la population. Nous sommes toujours déterminés à transformer radicalement la vie des jeunes délinquants en les envoyant à des camps de type militaire et en instaurant des programmes stricts de discipline.

Nous ne devons pas oublier les hommes et les femmes qui protègent nos quartiers et nos familles, et encore moins les agents qui ont donné leur vie pour assurer notre sécurité.

Pour reconnaître comme il se doit l'ultime sacrifice des agents de police qui ont perdu la vie dans l'exercice de leurs fonctions, le gouvernement érigera, en collaboration avec les organismes de services policiers, un monument à la mémoire de tous les agents morts en service commandé.

Ce monument sera élevé à quelques pas seulement de l'édifice de l'Assemblée législative, juste au sud de l'édifice Whitney. Par son emplacement, il rappellera non seulement aux citoyens ordinaires, mais aussi à tous les fonctionnaires, députés et ministres, que ces hommes et ces femmes des divers coins de la province ont donné leur vie pour protéger la nôtre et celle de nos familles.

NOTRE AVENIR

Les préparatifs vont bon train pour célébrer l'an 2000 et souligner pendant toute une année les réalisations de notre passé et notre foi dans l'avenir.

À l'aube du nouveau millénaire, les Ontariens et Ontariennes partagent toujours ces croyances fondamentales :

L'économie mondiale est une réalité que l'on ne saurait négliger.

Notre soif de savoir n'a jamais été aussi grande.

La dignité, le respect et l'autonomie sont des valeurs qui doivent continuer de faire partie intégrante de notre système d'aide sociale.

Nous devons protéger notre environnement.

Nous devons maintenir un système public de santé sur lequel chaque famille de l'Ontario peut véritablement compter.

Et, finalement, le désir d'assurer notre sécurité et celle de nos familles persiste.

Face à ces exigences, il importe que l'Ontario continue de croître et de prospérer... continue de développer les moyens nécessaires pour répondre aux aspirations et aux besoins de la population.

La force de notre province découle, en bonne partie, de ses ressources et de sa population.

Mais nous devons faire encore plus d'efforts pour continuer sur notre lancée.

Pour aller de pair avec la force de ses citoyens et la richesse de ses ressources, l'Ontario a besoin de leaders qui ont une vision, de la détermination, l'esprit de décision, de l'inspiration et du courage.

Votre gouvernement comprend ces attentes.

Il a su relever ce défi au cours des quatre dernières années.

Et il continuera de le relever dans les années à venir.

Membres de l'Assemblée législative, que la sagesse et le sens de l'équité guident vos débats pendant cette session.

Dieu bénisse notre pays et notre province. Dieu protège la Reine.

Her Honour was then pleased to retire.

The Speaker addressed the House as follows:-

Le Président s'adresse à l'Assemblée comme suit:-

I would briefly like to draw member's attention to a note on your desks from me about Order Paper motions and Resolutions.

I have been concerned in the past about the length of some motions that have been put on the Order Paper, and specifically about very long preambles in some of them.

As I say in the note on your desk, I think that the start of a new Session is a good time to draw members' attention to our rules about long preambles and recitals. Simply put, they are out of order and beginning today I am asking all members to comply with my direction to refrain from using these long preambles, and to frame your Order Paper motions consistent with the Standing Orders. I want to make it clear now, in fairness to all members, that I will remove out-of-order motions from the Order Paper. As always, the Table is available to assist with drafting advice and I encourage you to consult the Clerks if you have any questions.

With unanimous consent, the House reverted to "Motions".

- hurting patient care by turning our emergency rooms into waiting rooms, firing nurses until Ontario had the fewest nurses per capita in the country; and forcing more and more patients to go to the U.S. or turn to private companies for everything from basic medical care to cancer treatment;
- breaking its promises in education by cutting $1 billion from our schools -- after promising not to take one cent out of classroom education;
- hurting our children and students by closing schools, slashing special education and English-as-a-second-language programs, forcing more and more parents to turn to private school, where enrolment is up 15 percent; and raising tuition fees by more than 60 percent to make Ontario the most expensive place in Canada to get a post-secondary education;
